Bandits Hunted At Plymouth

Clues Found In Garage Loft

Search for two bandits who held up the Tiro Farmers and Citizens bank Tuesday was concentrated today in the Plymouth area, after two youths were seen fleeing from the loft above the McPherson Body and Fender shop late yesterday.

Mansfield post state highway patrolmen, called to the scene, said blankets were found spread on the floor of the upstairs room, along with articles of clothing, including "T" shirts.

Both Tiro bank robbers, who ordered the surrender of $2,350 from bank cashier, Mrs. Edith McNutt, were reported wearing "T" shirts.

FBI authorities and Shelby police, under the direction of Chief LeRoy Coffey assisted patrolmen in surrounding the area where the pair was last seen running into a woods nearby the auto shop. Patrolmen said, however, that the search was fruitless.

The two youths were seen by Carl McPherson, owner of the body and fender shop, who said he saw the men run from the garage, through an open field and into a woods

McPherson said he had parked his car in the shop and walked out when he heard "a commotion on the stairway."

"I turned around and saw the youths running from the garage," he said. A stairway leads from a second-floor loft into the garage which is a converted barn.

CARRIED BUNDLES

McPherson said each man had "a bundle under his arm." One was described as dark haired and hatless, and wearing a plain blue shirt. The other McPherson described as wearing a light tan sport shirt, cap and brown trousers.

Patrolmen said there was evidence that the youths had been using the loft over the shop for temporary sleeping quarters as evidenced by the blankets left on the floor.

Chief Coffey denied rumors that a suspect in the robbery was being held for investigation in Shelby city jail.

"We haven't picked up anyone," was the chief's reply.

Coffey referred all other questions on the man-hunt to the FBI office in Cleveland where officials kept their customary silence pending completion of the investigation.

PAIR STILL OUT

As yet, neither of the two Mansfield reformatory inmates, who escaped last Saturday from the farm, have been apprehended. Authorities said they were still following up the descriptions of the two men, Russell Kansorka, 24, and James Campbell, 26, both of Toledo, as the possible bank bandits.

Impetus to the search for the escapers in connection with the bank robbery was given to authorities shortly after the robbery Tuesday when pictures of the inmates, offered to Mrs. McNutt by a News-Journal reporter, were identified by the cashier as the bandits. Her identification was upheld by Leo Steele of Plymouth, who walked into the bank at the time of the hold-up.

However, Mrs. Lula Crowl, wife of a Plymouth tavern keeper, de-

Bank Bandits Get $1,300

CLEVELAND—(UP)—Two armed bandits robbed the Progress Building Savings and Loan company of $1,300 here today and escaped in a black Buick sedan.

Mrs. Julia Mokry, 50, the loan company's assistant secretary, was alone when the two robbers walked in. One of them covered her with a .45-caliber pistol and demanded the money in the cash drawer.

Mrs. Mokry handed over the money and the pair ran to the street to an awaiting auto.

Blasts Hamper Rescuers

LUDWIGSHAVEN, Germany—(INS)—Rescue workers battled flames, poison gas, and new explosions today to reach trapped victims of the blast that wrecked the I. G. Farben plants at Ludwigshaven yesterday.

Hundreds of American soldiers joined Germans and Frenchmen in the mercy missions.

The catastrophe, worst of its kind in Europe's history, was known to have killed at least 200 persons. Workers who hauled some 200 bodies from the blazing wreckage said that at least that many more were still lying in the ruins.

More than 600 U.S. occupation troops were rushed into the disaster area, in the French occupation zone. German, French and American doctors and nurses, overwhelmed by the number of injured, toiled ceaselessly.

Hospitals at nearby Mannheim, Heidelberg, Darmstadt, Speyer and Karlsruhe were jammed.

Soviet-zone newspapers sought to exploit the disaster for propaganda with charges that French use of the plant to produce V-2 rocket fuel and explosives has resulted in the blast.

(In Paris, the French foreign ministry denied that V-2 fuel or explosives were manufactured in the plants.)

THOUSANDS INJURED

Those injured in the plant and adjacent vicinity already totalled more than 6,000.

Officials declared it will be several days before an accurate list of fatalities and injuries can be announced.

The tragic scene was reminiscent of the worst war-time air raids visited upon Ludwigshaven, which supplied Hitler's armies with many of the weapons used by the Germans.

Some 22,000 employes were at work when the first series of seven explosions occurred. The initial blast took place in a room of the lacquer plant containing chloro-ethyl.

The earth-rocking detonations damaged buildings a mile distant and shattered windows within a five-mile radius. Roofs were hurled from tops of structures some distance from the chemical works.

Nine Farben Men Guilty

NUERNBERG, Germany—(AP)—Nine directors of the giant F. G. Farben Chemical trust were convicted today of looting industries in countries subjugated by Hitler's armies.

The judgement, by a United States military tribunal acquitted all 24 leaders of Farben on charges of plotting and waging aggressive war. The court said the blame for this clearly lay with the politicians and militarists of the third reich

The opinion delivered after an 11-month trial, dealt with five counts against Farben's board of directors. The court said evidence failed to support the prosecutions on two of the counts, dealing with aggressive war.

A third count, spoliation and plunder of occupied countries, was amply proved, the judgement said, against Directors Hermann Schmitz, Georg von Schnitzler, Fritz Ter Meer, Ernst Buergin, Paul Harliger, Max Ilgner, Friedrich Jaehne, Heinrich Oster, and Hans Kuggler.

Smash Diaper Derby Record

PALISADES PARK, N. J.—(INS)—Fourteen-month-old Donald Samuel held the American diaper derby crown today.

The Bloomfield, N. J., child won the title yesterday at Palisades Park, setting a new world's record of 46.2 seconds for the 60-foot crawl.

Runner-up in the baby "Olympics" event was 10-month-old Geraldine Sinatra, of Hoboken, N. J., a cousin of the Voice—Frank.

JUDGE APPOINTED

ST. CLAIRSVILLE — (UP) — John C. Nichols, judge of the court of appeals, today was appointed to serve on the American Law Institute commit.ee.

SMOKE BILLOWS FROM EXPLOSION—Tremendous clouds of smoke choke the sky over Ludwigshaven, Germany, as great flames sweep the blast-shattered chemical plant of the I. G. Farbenindustrie works that sprawl along the Rhine. A series of mighty explosions ripped the plant, killing at least 300 Germans and injuring thousands.—(International Radiophoto)

Feud Causes Berlin Split

2 Administrations Now Functioning

BERLIN—(UP)—The Berlin city administration, caught in the tug of war between the east and west, split wide open today.

A new anti-communist police chief set up headquarters in the U. S sector in competition with the communist-backed chief who ignored a discharge order.

Johannes Stumm, the west's chief, said at noon that half the employes of the old headquarters had reported to the new. But all the records remained at the old headquarters in the Soviet zone, where Chief Paul Markgraf carried on.

The city assembly met under the cloud of a Soviet warning in the press that the meeting might produce "bloody provocations." It was held in the heart of the Soviet sector, where communist-led demonstrators started trouble at an assembly meeting on June 23.

Today's meeting opened uneventfully. Twelve armed policemen patroled outside the building, and the Broad street was almost deserted.

The British-licensed newspaper Er Tag directed all Soviet sector police who are members of the Christian Democratic union and have been discharged by Markgraf to report at once to CDU headquarters.

Former GOP Leader Dies

WASHINGTON — (AP) — James Eli Watson of Indiana, Republican leader of the Senate during President Hoover's administration died today at the age of 84.

The colorful Hoosier served in Congress under eight presidents but was swept out of office by the Democratic landslide of 1932. He was stricken with internal hemorrhages on Oct 12 and taken to a local hospital.

One of the "old guard" Republicans of a by-gone era, he was elected in 1894 to the House, where he served for 12 years. He was elected to the Senate in 1916 and served until 1933.

CHARGE AGE FALSIFIED

CANTON—(INS)—Jack R. Corkran, 19, delegate to the recent National Progressive party convention, was out on $2,500 bond today following a police charge that he falsified his age when he registered and voted in the Ohio May primary

Porter Airs President's Program

Truman Seeks Power To Roll Back Prices

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman asked today that Congress give him power to roll back prices on essential cost of living items to the level of prices in November 1947 or the nearest "appropriate period."

Mr. Truman sent Paul Porter, former OPA administrator, to the capitol with details of what he wants

The President had asked generally for anti-inflation powers in his message to the special session of Congress.

Porter went before the House banking committee with the President's proposals prepared in the form of a bill.

The bill proposes also limited powers between now and June 30, 1950:

1. To ration a few products in short supply

2. Some authority over wages in the manufacture of items put under price control.

3. Restoration of war time controls over consumer credit, such as restraints on installment buying.

4. Direct authority to regulate speculation on commodity exchanges.

5 Authority to regulate bank credit.

6. Strengthening of rent control with the administration to bring de-controlled housing units back under rent ceilings if it deems it necessary.

7. Inventory control of scarce commodities which basically effect the essential industrial production, or the cost of living, and the right to ration them to industries.

Porter told reporters that a separate bill will be sent to Congress proposing the restoration of the war time excess profits taxes.

Even before the program was presented, Republican leaders had declared they would not approve such controls.

Search Launched For Missing Man

WAKEMAN—(INS)—Search was intensified today for William Graden, 70, of Wakeman, who disappeared mysteriously 10 days ago.

Graden's disappearance was reported to police only two days ago. Wakeman Mayor Charles A. Schultz learned of Graden's absence from neighbors and immediately ordered a search.

Dixie Starts Filibuster

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Anti-poll tax legislation was brought up in the Senate today and Southerners immediately began filibustering tactics

It was evident that this first measure to get consideration in the special Congress session would draw a lot of talk, but probably no action

Prospects were no brighter, either, for President Truman's anti-inflation program.

The anti-poll tax legislation would outlaw payment of state poll taxes as a requirement for voting in federal elections. It has passed the House.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb) moved that the senate consider it, saying he did so in a "hopeful spirit."

Senator Russell (D-Ga) promptly started delaying tactics. He asked a quorum call. This is a call of the roll to determine whether a majority of the Senate is present.

Senator Stennis (D-Miss) was ready to make a long speech.

Hot Dog! Prices Drop

WEST NEWTON, Pa —(INS)—A West Newton butcher picked a good way to start things humming.

Business boomed when George Sweeney, proprietor of West Newton's largest meat market, put wieners on sale at 12½ cents per pound because he "just wanted to stir things up."

Wieners are currently priced at 59 cents a pound and up in West Newton.

BOMBERS ON DUTY

TUCSON, Ariz.—(AP)—B-29 superforts at Davis-Monthan field are rolling back into active duty after being put in storage last year.

'Love Child' Widow Free

Heart Disease Killed Husband

CALAIS, Me —(INS)—Mrs. Margaret Marcil, 33, former navy nurse, was cleared today of a charge of murdering her bridegroom.

The husband, Oscar, 55, Schenectady, N. Y., super-market manager, was found to have died of a north woods camp on Lake Spednic of a heart attack.

County Attorney Thomas Bridges announced in court that traces of amyl nitrate had been found in the internal organs of the husband but not in sufficient quantity to cause death.

He said authorities were now satisfied that Marcil died as a result of a heart attack.

The attractive former navy nurse had been accused of the vacation trip slaying of her husband.

After being brought to Calais from the county jail at Machias, she was reunited with her little daughter, Kathleen, alleged "love baby" of a wartime romance with a sailor from Kentucky. Marcil had planned to adopt "Kathy."

$8,000,000 Theft Foiled

LONDON — (INS) — Nine gangsters were arrested today after a terrific fight with London police following an attempted theft of eight million dollars in gold ingots.

Forty police overcame the bandits who tried to break into a warehouse at the London airport where the gold was stored.

The gangsters, armed with crow bars, drove up under cover of darkness in a dilapidated dairy van.

Police previously were tipped off. They closed in and a fierce battle ensued.

A number of detectives were hurt seriously in the fracas. The bandits were well battered themselves

Eight of the gangsters, all heavily bandaged, appeared in the Uxbridge police court later for arraignment. The ninth was hospitalized

HANNA SUED FOR DIVORCE

BUFFALO N. Y.—(UP)—Mark A. Hanna, III, 39, scion of a prominent Cleveland, O., family and recently convicted forger, today was sued for an annulment by his wife, Mrs. Evelyn Y. Hanna of Buffalo.

Slayer Returned From Celina This Afternoon

Robert Murl Daniels, 24, was being returned to Mansfield this afternoon to stand trial in Richland county for the confessed slayings of John E. Niebel, his wife, Nolana, and their daughter, Phyllis, early on the morning of July 21.

Common Pleas Judge Eugene McNeil of Van Wert county today ordered Daniels, accused of six killings, released to Richland county authorities for trial at Mansfield on a triple murder charge.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson and Prosecutor Theodore Lutz obtained custody of Daniels from Van Wert County Sheriff F. Roy Schaffer at the Celina jail.

They started immediately for Mansfield and were due here at 3 p. m.

Under Judge McNeill's instructions, Daniels is to be confined in a cell at the state reformatory pending trial.

The decision to yield Daniels to Richland county came after a conference with officials from three Ohio counties where Daniels is wanted on murder charges.

Attending the conference were Prosecuting Attorney Lutz and Sheriff Robinson of Richland county; Prosecutor Ralph J. Bartlett of Franklin county and officials from Seneca county.

JUDGE DECIDES

A closed hearing on disposition of the prisoner was held at the judge's office. Officials of the counties demanding custody left it up to Judge McNeill to decide the matter. He immediately decided that Richland county had first claim.

Daniels was captured at a roadblock near Van Wert last Friday at the time his murder team partner, John C. West, 22, was shot to death. The two former inmates of Mansfield reformatory had been hunted throughout the state after they had terrorized Ohio for 14 days.

Police Sgt. Leonard D. Conn of Van Wert was wounded critically in stopping the killers at the roadblock. Van Wert county authorities had insisted upon holding Daniels until the outcome of Cann's wounds was clear. The policeman was reported recovering and out of danger today.

West attempted to shoot it out with Sgt. Conn and was fatally shot.

That ended one of Ohio's greatest manhunts

Prosecutor Lutz said that Daniels was formally charged with the brutal corn field slaying of John Elmer Niebel, his wife, Nolana, and 20-year-old daughter, Phyllis.

CONFESSES KILLINGS

Daniels brazenly confessed killing the Niebels.

"Give me credit for the Niebels," he boasted.

The kill-crazy pair started their reign of terror early this month when they walked drunkenly into a Columbus tavern, brandished automatic pistols and took $800 in cash and checks from the till. Half an hour later they walked into another bar and shot Earl C. Ambrose, the bartender.

After the Niebel slayings, the pair shifted their operations to northwestern Ohio where James Smith, a farmer, was shot dead the following day. Their next victim was Orville Taylor, Niles, Mich., truck driver. They stole his auto transport truck and were driving it when Daniels was captured and West was shot between the eyes

The slayers met in the reformatory while serving terms for grand larceny and theft.

Plant Open Despite CIO Picket Line

Workers Jeered; Violence Fades

DAYTON — (AP) — Pickets only marched and shouted "scab" today and no heads were cracked at the strike-bound Univis Lens company plant.

With 164 policemen watching in tight lines, the expected violence failed to come when the eye glass company reopened its plant for the fourth consecutive day.

By 8:15 a. m., 700 production workers had entered—unmolested—but with jeers of "scab" and "skunk" following them.

Husky Lou Kaplan, international organizer of the striking CIO United Electrical Workers, Local 768, directed three picket lines despite a court order barring him even from the vicinity of the plant

Pictures showing earlier struggles between police and pickets in the Univis strike appear on Page 3.

Kaplan said he had not been served with the order. He was still wearing a patch on his head and a fractured finger suffered in yesterday's melee was in splints.

Haranguing the crowd from a union sound truck, Kaplan shouted, "You are witnessing the results of one of the most vicious laws, the Taft-Hartley law. This is what happens when working people don't get out and vote. Look at the police lines and remember it next election day Elect a city commission representing workers and not management."

Arthur L. Garfield of Detroit, secretary of the General Motors conference of all United Electrical Workers locals, also spoke from the sound truck.

"This is not just a situation involving Dayton," he said. "It involves Wall Street A vice president of Lehman brothers is on the Univis board of directors."

The mass picketing followed an announcement by the Montgomery County CIO Industrial Union council it would throw its full weight behind the Univis strike

Reunion Plans Interrupted By Death

Plans for a reunion of two members of one of Mansfield's pioneer families were interrupted yesterday by the death of Miss Sophia Louise Weiskotten, 85, in Johnstown, Pa

Miss Weiskotten, a native of Mansfield, was awaiting the arrival of her brother, Robert Weiskotten, from Detroit, Mich., when she was stricken. Her brother is her only survivor.

Funeral services were to be held today at 3:30 p m at the Wappner funeral home with burial in the Mansfield cemetery.

Miss Weiskotten was born in Mansfield Oct. 12, 1862. Her father was one of the early pastors of the St. John's Evangelical church. Many Mansfielders remember her as a German teacher at Carpenter school.

The old family home stood near the present intersection of Walnut and First streets. Many older residents recall a large vineyard on the site.

Family of 4 Found Safe

PORT CLINTON — (UP) — A Cleveland family of four, feared drowned in Lake Erie, was found safe today.

Mrs. Ralph Orgel, 33, and her two children, Kenneth, 13, and Valerie, 3, arrived here from nearby Put-In-Bay, unaware that their two-day disappearance had caused a flurry of excitement and a search by coast guard rescue boats.

Mrs Orgel reported they had set out with her husband, Ralph, in their outboard motor boat Tuesday on a fishing trip. She said the motor quit when the boat hit a rock, and they rowed to shore and spent the night at a resort.

Damage Claim Hiked

NEW YORK—(UP)—The Kaiser-Frazer corporation, which recently filed a $7,762,500 breach of contract suit against Otis and company, of Cleveland, today was permitted by Federal Judge Vincent L. Leibell to increase its demand to $19,276,069, which would include special damages.

Bevin Outlines Gravity of East-West Crisis

Britain Faces Halt In Armed Force Demobilization

(Compiled from Wire Services)

LONDON—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today the British government is considering a halt in demobilization of its armed forces because of the tension between Russia and the West.

He told a hushed House of Commons a decision will be reached "in a few days."

He held out hope that current diplomatic maneuvers of Britain, the United States and France with Russia might determine whether there is a chance of ending the cold war, hottest at Berlin which the Russians have blockaded for a month by land.

Bevin said the Labor government, in allowing British armed forces to be reduced at the rate of 20,000 a month, had not assumed "that the policy of our war-time allies would lead to a situation which might involve the use of force."

"The situation that has now arisen has, of course, compelled us to reexamine the whole position," he said. "I have not given up hope . . ."

Wartime Prime Minister Winston Churchill pledged the Labor government the support of the Conservative opposition he leads.

Bevin came closer than any other high official yet to saying that the Russian policy in Berlin, if pursued, would lead to war. And he added that the British government was "determined to take any measures deemed fit to meet the situation."

He said he always had realized that the situation in Berlin and Germany might become difficult because of Soviet policy.

Bevin said the West always had been willing to negotiate with Russia on Berlin currency, the specific problem on which Russia blamed the current crisis.

Wages Here Top Average In Nation

Mansfield Shown as Good Market

(Special to the News-Journal)

NEW YORK—Mansfield is a prosperous market, with more "spendable" money in the hands of the average family than is the case of most cities, according to a national copyrighted survey of buying power, just completed by Sales Management.

Retail sales in Mansfield's stores reached $55,529,000 in 1947, the report shows. The city accounted for .047 per cent of the nation's retail business with only .32 of the nation's population. Mansfield stood out in Ohio, doing .87 per cent of the state's business with but .59 per cent of the state population.

This was made possible by better incomes. The survey shows the 13,600 families in Mansfield had an effective buying income, after federal and state income taxes and other personal taxes, of $58,779,000, an average of $4,322 per family. Income the previous year was $4,047 per family.

A measure of the purchasing ability of Mansfield, compared with that of the nation, per unit of population, is given by a "quality of market index." This rates Mansfield 16 per cent above average in buying potential.

Much of the local buying potential was not tapped, according to the survey. It found its way into savings banks and into investments.

7 Motorists Fined $100

Fines totaling $100 were assessed against seven traffic law violators in municipal court yesterday afternoon.

William Channel, 102 East Sixth street, was fined $50 and costs for leaving the scene of an accident and his license was suspended for six months. Eleven dollars of the fine was suspended on condition that Channel pay damages to James George, 268 Sheridan avenue. Channel also was fined $5 and costs for operating without a license.

Speeders Richard J. Shambre, 138½ South Main street; Jack R. Cleckner, Mansfield, R. D. 4; Edward R. Bartko, 321 Howard street, and Hobart P. Henry, Perrysville, were fined $10 and costs.

Fined $5 and costs was Lee Lauderdale, Adelphia hotel, for operating a motor vehicle on a temporary permit, unaccompanied by a licensed driver.

Leo Fry, Bellville, charged with unsafe operation, was assessed the costs of the hearing.

Requests Return Of Properties

Agnes I. Fox of Lincoln Heights yesterday filed a petition in common pleas court, asking that a deed turning over three Lincoln Heights properties be cancelled.

She asks that the defendants, William L. and Ruth H. Slagle, be required to re-convey the properties to her.

The plaintiff says she turned over to the defendants a deed to the properties on July 17, when they gave her a check for $4,500 as a down payment.

She said the check on the Knox County Savings bank of Mt. Vernon was returned July 27, marked "insufficient funds." She said she had turned over the deed, believing the check would be paid. Her attorney is Marshall C. Moore.

Strange Metal Box Holds Ashes, Death Certificate

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Police investigation of a metal box a housewife found in her basement Wednesday revealed that her home was a one-time funeral establishment.

Mrs. Evelyn Palmore was cleaning her basement when she spotted a metal box in the corner.

She opened the lid and found a death certificate laying above a small mound of ashes.

The certificate read: "Henry Hoeflich, 68, Pittsburgh, Pa., died Sept. 26, 1924 in Allegheny hospital. Occupation, salesman."

The distraught woman immediately called police who took the box away.

Detectives learned that the Palmore home had formerly been the funeral establishment of P. V. Wetzel who quit the business shortly before his death six years ago.

Local authorities have asked Pittsburgh police to aid in locating the man's relatives.

SHAMROCK NO. 2

A Mansfield woman reports that one of the most interesting experiences recently was when the postman rang the doorbell and asked if he could use the phone. Gaining permission, he placed his loaded mail sack on the floor, went to the phone and, when he got his connection, said: "Hello, dear, I just wondered if we got any mail today."

Food Price Averages Ease Slightly

(By Associated Press)

Food price averages eased somewhat this week in many sections of the nation. Consumers got the benefit of excellent crop weather. But they still paid considerably more than a year ago, and most meat cuts continued in the luxury class.

Most consumers bought everything but meat in large quantities at the grocery, but high meat prices kept these sales down

Sales of fresh vegetables and canned goods were reported larger than a year ago.

A survey by the American Institute of Food Distribution showed chains and large markets reporting dollar sales 12 per cent above last July and stores in rural and resort areas doing almost as well Most neighborhood stores in the big cities reported sales about the same as a year ago. Wholesalers said a 5 per cent gai in sales over last July balanced the increase in their average prices.

Predictons on future prices centered around a depratment of agriculture report that the feed supply will be one of the largest on record and 25 per cent more per animal than last year. This foreshadowed heavy feeding for hogs and cattle to garner the higher prices their fattened meat commands. A light kill in hogs this fall while they are being stuffed would indicate more porkchops available after the first of the year.

The United Nations' food and agriculture organization chipped in with the prediction Europe would be short of food until 1951, when pre-war production should be regained.

The agriculture department recommended that farmers plant 8 per cent less acres in wheat next year. But with high government support prices promised, some predicted farmers might plant as much as ever.

The food component of the Associated Press wholesale commodity price index dropped in the week to 153 22 from 154.02 the week before, and was back roughly to the level a month ago. It was still way above the year's low of 142.76 May 14, and below the year's high of 165 58 Jan. 2.

The livestock component also eased to 261 52 from 263 29 the week before and the year's high of 265.67 July 9. It was at the year's low of 201.63 April 2.

The wholesale price index of 31 foods by Dun & Bradstreet droped to $7.18 from $7.30 the previous week. Two weeks ago the all-time high of $7.36 was set. The previous high was $7.28 Jan. 13. A year ago the index was $6.51.

PATROLMAN SHOOTS YOUTH

SPRINGFIELD — (AP) — A state highway patrolman yesterday shot and wounded seriously a 16-year-old Youngstown youth whom he sought to question about a stolen car. The shooting followed a chase, launched after the boy was reported to have driven away from a West Jefferson, O., gas station without paying for a purchase. Police said the boy had been armed with a revolver in a shoulder holster.

Ohio State Employes Face Pay Scale Revisions Soon

COLUMBUS — (U.P.) — Gov. Thomas J. Herbert said today that broad revisions in state employe job classifications and pay scales as a result of the salary study commission's survey will "save the state thousands of dollars."

At present, the governor said, there are over 1,500 different job classifications in the state service.

"I am informed by the salary study commission that very likely these classifications will be reduced by more than half," he added. "This in itself will be a substantial accomplishment. It is also evident that as a result of the survey many inequities presently existing in job classifications will be removed and that salaries of many persons now being paid too much or too little will be subject to adjustments."

WAGE DATA SOUGHT

Herbert said his office had sent letters to 1,500 private employers in the state, asking their help in developing a "sound classification and pay plan" for the state's 26,000 employers. The governor's letter asked for wage data to be used in determining proper rates of pay for state workers.

"Since 1943 there have been five separate and distinct pay increases 000 employes. The governor's continued. "Each was temporary legislation which has been extended at each regular session of the legislature.

"It is entirely probable that the salary study commission will recommend a formula by which this condition may be corrected and thereby save the state many thousands of dollars in unnecessary bookkeeping."

The salary study commission was created by the 1947 General Assembly upon recommendation of Governor Herbert. C. William N'Oeill of Marietta, speaker of the house, is chairman of the commission. State Sen. Fred R. Seibert of St. Mary's is vice chairman, and Fred J. Milligan, state director of commerce, is secretary.

Public administration service of Chicago, awarded the contract to make the survey, began work on the project last December, and is expected to make its report to the commission by Oct. 1.

RESCUES BROTHER—Heroine of a dramatic rescue, Patsy May Cummings, 4, smiles happily as she clings to her 13-months-old brother, Jimmy, whose life she saved. When their trailer-home in Antioch, Ill., caught fire, Patsy forced open the door, grabbed Jimmy from his crib and carried him to safety. For some reason —maybe diaper trouble — Jim doesn't seem too happy.—(Int'l)

First to Enlist Under New Program

The first Mansfield area enlistment under the new 18-year-old program for one year's training has been accepted, the Mansfield Navy recruiting station announced today.

Wallace R. Vaughn, Crestline, will be the first area enlistee to leave for 12 months training.

He will receive his recruit training at Great Lakes Naval training center before being assigned to active service.

Lisbon 'Clue' Case Still Unsolved

Beating, Linked To Killers, a Mystery

The beating up of a diner dishwasher last Wednesday night in Lisbon, O., which for a time was linked to the crime spree of killers West and Daniels, has remained unsolved.

Sheriff George E. Hayes of Columbiana county told The News-Journal today that authorities there have not apprehended any suspects in the beating.

Jasper Hutes was beaten and struck on the head with a revolver outside the diner and, for a time, suspicion pointed to West and Daniels.

However, at the time the accused killers of the Niebel family were in Cleveland or Akron, according to Daniels' statement.

The two youths who beat up Hutes were supposed to have made their getaway in a truck, stolen a short time later. The truck has not yet been recovered, Hayes said.

The two men who beat up Hutes had a grey 1939 Pontiac. West and Daniels had a 1947 grey Pontiac.

The owner of the Pontiac abandoned by the youths at Lisbon got his car back Saturday. The owner, Clark W. Kitchen, of Rochester, Pa., had reported the car as stolen the night before from Rochester, Sheriff Hayes said.

Old Pottery Facts Found

COLUMBUS —(ILE)— Research work by an Ohio State university chemist which reconstructed long-lost formulas used by ancient pottery-makers and traced a modern ceramic process back to Roman times was announced today.

Dr. Earle R. Caley's work involved chemical analysis of two glazes—one green and one yellow—on the surfaces of pottery found in excavations at Goxlu Kule, Tarsus, in southern Turkey

Dr. Caley confirmed his research work by preparing and producing in the laboratory glazes having the same composition as those found on the ancient pottery.

Lead glazing is widely used today on many modern ceramic products, including most dinnerware, but little historical information about this process has been found.

Lykens Chapter Wins FFA Award

BUCYRUS — With a total of 17,946 points to his credit, Ivan Hartschuh, senior member of the Lykens chapter, Future Farmers of America, has been declared winner of the 1947-48 Crawford county FFA conservation contest. His award will be an electric handdrill.

Arthur Covers of Lykens placed second with 13,232 points.

In the chapter contest, Lykens placed first with 4,193 points per member and Mt. Zion second with 2,140 points

The contest was sponsored by the Crawford County Conservation league. Farm woodlot management, wildlife management, soil and water management and pest eradication were included in the projects

Infantile Paralysis Cases Going Up In North Carolina

RALEIGH, N. C. —(INS)— Another sharp upsurge of the North Carolina infantile paralysis epidemic today brought the number of victims in the state to nearly one thousand.

Forty new cases were reported to state board of health headquarters in Raleigh Wednesday for a total of 998 polio victims this year.

Epidemologist Dr. C. P. Stevick in announcing the case report added that two Onslow county patients had been taken out of the polio classification after another diagnosis, to lower previous totals by two.

Five more deaths also were listed, for a total of 58 fatalities in the epidemic.

Five hundred and eighty-three persons have been stricken by the disease this month, and 288 in June.

First Draftees Will Face Prospect of Service Overseas

Volunteers Boost Army Manpower

50,400 Men Needed Monthly

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The army indicated today that some men called up under the new peacetime draft may be on their way overseas 10 to 12 weeks after donning uniforms.

The estimate was included in an official draft circular sent by the army to its advisory boards throughout the country. Local draft boards are expected to start drafting men 19-through-25 about Oct. 1.

But Lt. Gen. Willard S. Paul, army personnel chief, hinted the army may not need as many draftees as originally estimated. If the army gets enough volunteers, he said, "we probably won't draft anyone."

The new army circular said each draftee will receive eight weeks basic military training after he has been processed and assigned. After that he may be sent abroad, to school or to posts in this country.

During the war, it took from two to four weeks to process and equip a soldier and send him to camp. Figured on this basis, the army's statement means that draftees could be on their way overseas in from 10 to 12 weeks.

Paul told newsmen that 32,000 new recruits signed up in June, and 18,085 volunteered the first two weeks of July.

ENLISTMENTS RUN HIGH

The army needs roughly 50,400 men a month to reach and maintain its authorized strength of 790,000 officers and men. If the July enlistment rate were maintained, the army would need only about 14,400 draftees a month.

Army Secretary Kenneth C. Royall had estimated previously that the army would have to draft about 30,000 men a month after Jan. 1. Paul said:

"We will continue taking enlistments right down the line. The intent of Congress on that point in the draft law is clear. If we can get enough volunteers, we probably won't have to draft anyone."

Selective service officials were not so optimistic as Paul. But they pointed out that the draft law originally was passed to take up the slack between enlistments and the army's manpower needs.

Paul's figures did not include 18-year-olds who have been flocking to sign up for one-year to sidestep the 21-month hitch when they reach 19. The army does not include them in its "combat" strength since they cannot be sent overseas.

Paul said 7,396 "regular" volunteers were signed up during the first week of July. During the second week, the rate increased to 10,689. The army got 12,898 of the new recruits and the air force 5,187.

Stassen Gets School Post

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The University of Pennsylvania today named Harold E. Stassen as its new president.

Announcement of the nomination of the 41-year-old Minnesotan came after a special meeting of the university's board of trustees. Salary terms were not disclosed.

The nomination was made "pursuant to the unanimous recommendation of the executive board of the university.

An announcement by the university said:

"The election of Governor Stassen will take place at a special meeting of the board to be held in September.

"Dr. George William McClelland, now president of the university, will at that time be elected to the chairmanship of the university."

Sheriff Offers Four Tracts At Public Auction Saturday

Four tracts of land will be offered at a sheriff's sale in partition Saturday at 10 a. m. in the courthouse. The sale was ordered in Common Pleas court in the case of L. C. Keffer vs. Orpha Pulver Hout and others.

The first tract to be offered consists of 26.4 acres located on the Ashland hill on the south side of U. S. Route 42, about two miles east of Mansfield. It is appraised at $5,000.

The second tract is located immediately to the west of the first tract and to the east of U. S. Route 42. It contains 5.9 acres and is appraised at $3,000.

The third tract contains 24 lots, each appraised at sums ranging from $200 to $500. The lots are in the Pulver Estates allotment at U. S. Route 42 and Grace street.

The last tract contains 38 acres and is located on the west side of U. S. Route 42, bounded by the Brookline allotment on the west, Grace street on the north, and the Pulver estates on the east. It is appraised at $6,000.

Air Show Set Aug. 22

ASHLAND — Ashland airport will be scene of an air show Sunday, Aug. 22 under the direction of the Ashland Junior Chamber of Commerce. An all-day program is being arranged by a committee headed by Bert Myers jr., chairman of the Jaycee aviation committee.

Breakfast will be served visiting fliers Sunday morning after which contests will be staged for the fliers. Army, Navy and civil aeronautics administration exhibits are being arranged and displays of aircraft will be exhibited.

Participating in the program will be Army and Navy planes, along with demonstrations by the National Guard and air force reserve pilots from this area. Passengers will be given rides over the city in planes during the day.

Programs for the two final concerts of the band at Brookside park on Aug. 5 and 12 will be made up of request numbers. Requests may be mailed to the Music Department at Ashland high school.

Non-Support Charges Dismissed

Two Defendants Win Freedom In Court

Two non-support cases were dismissed today in municipal court for lack of prosecution after both had been continued several times.

Cases heard included a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under revocation of driving rights, a speeding charge and a drunk and disorderly charge.

The case of Nicholas Grueser, of Pomeroy, charged with non-support, was dismissed for want of prosecution after it had been continued twice. Grueser pleaded innocent to the charge filed July 9 by Mrs. Imogene Keineth.

The non-support case of Otis M. Francis, filed here by Kentucky authorities on June 4 also was dismissed for want of prosecution. Francis pleaded innocent to the charge.

Mrs. Ina M. Ward, of 438 Shepard road, was fined $10 and costs after pleading guilty to a charge of speeding on Sturges avenue Tuesday.

Joseph Hyland, who gave his address as the Pennsylvania railroad camp, was fined $25 and costs after pleading guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge. He was taken to the county jail to serve out his fine.

Harold James Young, jr., of Lexington, was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail after pleading guilty to a charge of operating a motor vehicle while under revocation of his driving rights. Young was arrested by state highway patrolmeh yesterday at 10:15 p. m. on U. S. Route 42, south of Mansfield.

Branded 'Public Nuisance'

Smoke and Soot Plague Shelby

SHELBY—City Councilman J. M. Herlihy said today that smoke and soot on the west side of Shelby was a "public nuisance."

Both Herlihy and E. E. Eckert, councilman from the Second ward, said they have been plagued with calls from homeowners protesting the smoke and soot from an industrial boiler on the west side.

Councilman Herlihy disclosed that the matter would definitely be brought up at the next session of the city council.

One irate housewife, Herlihy said, complained that the conditions have existed for two years.

VARIED COMPLAINTS

The complaints ranged from women who wouldn't put out wash to dry—to homeowners who maintained their windows had to be kept closed on hot, humid days, the councilman said.

West side residents charged that the company was using a locomotive type boiler without combustion chambers. The soot and smoke, they claim, goes from the fire box up the flues and out of the stacks.

Many homeowners said the company promised to eliminate the problem more than 14 months ago by adopting new methods.

Hunt Bandits At Plymouth

nied that two youths, believed to be the bank robbers who had visited the tavern shortly before the hold-up were the hunted inmates.

Mrs. Crowl, who thought the two youths "looked suspicious" as they drank their beer in the tavern, jotted down the license number of their car as they left. The car was later seen parked near the bank and believed to have been the escape vehicle used by the pair for their getaway.

An auto, answering the description of the tavern visitors' car and stolen earlier in Shelby, was found abandoned near Plymouth about five hours after the robbery.

Crawford county deputy sheriff, Earl Dibbin said his department "has suspicions" on the robbery but that no one had been picked up on an investigation charge.

Sues Heating Firm For $1,000

Harry Butts, South Main street road, yesterday filed a cross-petition in common pleas court, asking $1,000 damages from the Allen Knapp Heating company.

Butts contends a furnace was improperly installed and that it was a lighter, lower-priced one than he ordered.

The heating company has sued Butts for $234.50, as money due for installing the furnace. Attorney H. M. Rust represents Butts.

Public To Be In On Survey

Welfare Unit Calls Meeting

The public is being invited to share in the work of the survey of public services and facilities for the care of needy children in Richland county.

The survey is being made by representatives of the Department of Public Welfare of Ohio at the specific request of the county commissioners and the county Child Welfare board.

Virginia S. Ferguson, survey director, today issued a general invitation to all persons in Mansfield and Richland county to attend a meeting, one week from today—Aug. 5—at 7:30 p. m. in the YMCA. Letters reinforcing the general invitation are being sent today to 75 individuals.

Haurice Taylor, YMCA executive secretary will act as temporary chairman. Mrs. Ferguson said.

At the meeting, survey workers will outline what a Child Care Study committee can do to assist regularly constituted officials in improving a child welfare program.

"If the group is favorably impressed," Mrs. Ferguson said, "we will proceed with formal organization. A nominating group will be chosen. At a later meeting an election will be held.

"By mid-September we will be ready to give the group a preliminary report on the survey."

The survey is expected to take eight weeks. It is an outgrowth of a recommendation by the Child Welfare board that a new Children's home be erected on a rural site and that the present site in Mansfield with its Civil war vintage building be disposed of.

The Welfare board and the commissioners asked that this recommendation be studied along with a general analysis of the present welfare program.

Mrs. Ferguson said that the report, when completed, will be entirely objective, pointing out minimum standards that must be met to give the county a well-rounded program rather than being a report on specific or personal facets of the present setup.

Road Bids Approved

GALION — John F. Porter, service-safety director, has announced that the bids of Roger Au, Mansfield contractor, for the paving of Grand, Payne and Bloomer streets, has been approved. Au, only bidder, was above city estimates with $12,913.82 for Payne avenue and Bloomer street improvement and $12,512.70 for the paving of Grand street.

Attorney Urges New Courthouse

Moore Cites Threat to County Records

If a fire should ravage the Richland county courthouse, all the deed and mortgage records filed in the county in the past three or four years would be destroyed, Attorney Marshall C Moore told Mansfield Optimist club members yesterday.

At a luncheon meeting in the Mansfield-Leland hotel, Moore told his fellow club members that these records of the past few years are loosely placed on a long table behind the county recorder's office because there is no room for them in the vault.

"Mansfield public officials are making no effort to protect from fire, theft, carelessness or destruction these records, old probate court records and administration records," Moore said.

"The older records dating back to the early days of Mansfield are scattered around on the fourth floor in the attic of the courthouse," he said.

"It's high time for some serious thought for the erection of a new building to adequately care for these records," he added.

CITES REPAIR COST

"Every year the county pays between $20,000 and $25,000 to keep the old courthouse and county jail in repair. The buildings are in deplorable condition and we are running the risk of losing county records," he asserted.

"We need a new juvenile court room to give young first offenders some respect and regard for the law. We need a fire-proof building with adequate vaults, facilities and a custodian to care for them."

Moore said something should be done about the area surrounding the Westbrook Country club.

"If you were to draw a line east and west along U.S. Route 30 through Mansfield, north of the line you would find that in the past two years over 300 shacks have been constructed outside the municipality of Mansfield," he said.

"These homes or shacks have no sanitation or sewage facilities, no facilities for water and have from six to 15 people living in one room.

"This is a hazard to everyone in the area and may be the makings of an epidemic," Moore said.

"Something should be done and some serious thought given to these problems, and I suggest that the county commissioners spend from $10,000 to $15,000 to photograph or micro-film the county records to be placed in adequate vaults in a new fire-proof building.

Bryce McMahon, Optimist club president, presided and George Kyle served as program chairman at the meeting

Father Files Damage Suit

A personal injury suit for $10,000 was filed yesterday in common pleas court by Russell K. Erdenberger, 21 Stewart road, on behalf of his 16-year-old son, Richard. Erdenberger alleges his son was struck by a car which was driven through a red traffic light.

The action was brought against William T. Geddes, 212 Park avenue west. The petition alleges that the youth was struck at Fourth and Main streets Dec. 28, 1946 as he was walking across Fourth street.

He contends the light indicated "stop" to Fourth street traffic. The petition contends the driver was negligent. The damages are asked for severe bodily injuries, the petition says. Attorneys Anderson, Will and O'Donnell represent Erdenberger.

Asks Judge's Impeachment

WASHINGTON—(UP)—Rep. W. J. Bryan Dorn, (D-SC), has demanded the impeachment of Federal Judge J. Waties Waring who recently ordered the South Carolina Democratic organization to open its enrollment books to negroes.

In a statement in the congressional record, he said Waring "has not been and is not now qualified from ability or temperament for the high office of U. S. district judge."

Dorn already has introduced a resolution calling for a House investigation of Waring's conduct in office.

OSU Ousts Archeologist

COLUMBUS — (UP) — Richard G. Morgan, whose wife rented a house to the communist party organizer for Franklin county, said Wednesday he was dismissed as curator of archeology at Ohio State museum.

Erwin C. Zepp, museum director, informed him his dismissal is effective July 31, Morgan said.

He said Zepp sent him minutes of a museum board meeting which called for his dismissal and said "information in possession of the society indicates that Richard G. Morgan is in violation of its stated policy of employment."

Morgan said that "in my 12 years at the museum I have never head of any policy of employment." He said he is preparing action to hold his post.

The museum's board of trustees had debated Morgan's status for several months, after it was learned that Frank Hashmall, communist party organizer from Franklin county, had rented a house from Morgan's wife.

The house, later damaged extensively in an anti-communist demonstration, is owned by a Chicago communist, a son of Mrs. Morgan by a previous marriage.

Morgan was not charged with taking part in Communist party activities.

When 'Trusties' Aren't Trustworthy

WALKAWAY of two inmates from the Ohio State Reformatory farm last Saturday afternoon has become quite naturally associated in the public mind with the Tiro bank robbery Tuesday afternoon, although this is no more than a suspicion thus far, unsupported by evidence.

What seems more timely for discussion at the moment is the unsupervised freedom accorded some Reformatory inmates who are designated as "trusties" without deserving the confidence thus placed in them.

It appears that both of the "trusties" who walked away from the Reformatory farm last Saturday were under conviction for auto thefts, with sentences of from one to 20 years, and the ease with which their departure from the institution was made possible by lack of surveillance causes wonderment as to possibility that privileges of a "trusty" may be too easily conferred, with resultant danger of further crimes of violence in the area surrounding the institution—or even further away.

Some Reformatory inmates—first offenders convicted of minor violations of law and possessed of normal mentality—can undoubtedly qualify as "trusties," but requirements for this preferential treatment should be sufficiently high to assure against the hazard of walkaways by irresponsible inmates of various subnormal and abnormal types, who make up a reported majority of the Reformatory population.

Let's Stop Making Crime Attractive

NOW that cleaning up of the comic books has been started, the radio should be the next influence on young minds to receive attention. There are some programs designed for appeal to children which lay great stress on crime and violence, and some others intended for adults, but broadcast at times when children are likely to be listening, of which the same criticism can be made.

Pending further development of television, the radio lacks the visual sensationalism present in some of the comics, but it has the added advantage of sound effects. The thunder of shooting, the snarls of killers and the screams and gurgles of the dying are not unknown to the ears of young radio listeners. Such material and the dramatic themes surrounding it are of questionable worth for children in the impressionable years.

Wise parents keep their children sufficiently occupied with more wholesome activities, so that little time is available for listening to radio thrillers. But such precautions should not be necessary.

Radio is capable of powerful appeal to the active minds of youngsters. It is being used through some programs to assist in the healthy development of children, and could be made even more useful in that way. The radio should be helpful to parents, rather than something against which children must be guarded.

Now Congress Can Repeal Oleo Tax

NOW THAT Congress is back in session, opportunity is given to complete at least one item of unfinished business that was lost in the rush preceding the June 19th adjournment of the regular session.

Whatever political barriers there may be to action on some of President Truman's proposals, no obstacles except those interposed by lobbyists for dairy interests stand in the way of bringing the oleo tax repeal bill to final passage, with assurance that it will be approved by President Truman.

This bill has been passed by the House and reported favorably in the Senate, so there is no reason why it can't be acted upon quickly.

With butter in such limited supply as to place it at an almost prohibitive price, and with wholesome and nourishing margarines available at around half the price of butter, it seems ridiculous that the federal government should impose the handicap of a discriminatory tax on what has become a very generally used product.

Tiro's Observant Mrs. Crowl

WHEN the Tiro bank robbery case is being considered it would seem quite proper to award an orchid to Mrs. Lulu Crowl, who noted the nervousness of a couple of young fellows who came into her husband's tavern in that village—and who thoughtfully jotted down the license number of the car in which they drove away.

This was the connecting link between the bandits and the car which they abandoned near Plymouth, after it had been stolen earlier in the day.

Such power of observation as was evidenced by Mrs. Crowl, in recognizing suspicious actions and noting the license number of the car in which the bank robbers traveled can be exceedingly helpful on many occasions, and is a trait that might well be cultivated as a part of citizen co-operation with authorities engaged in crime prevention or pursuit of criminals.

Sturdy Houses Were Built of Mud

MUD HOUSES, built in the English midlands in the seventeenth century, may offer ideas to modern builders. These houses, with walls three feet thick and heavily thatched roofs, are said to be naturally warm in winter and cool in summer. From their solid stone foundations up, they are still as sturdy as the day they were built.

Modern America is not free from mud houses. A few were built here and there during the depression years. They proved reasonably practical and cheaper than more conventional kinds of construction for the home-builder willing to do most of the work and forget to count his time in the cost. But a great amount of patient labor is required to build a mud wall which will withstand the elements, and the mud house never became popular in the American scene. The old adobe house of the Southwest was sturdy, too, but was more akin to brick than to mud.

It appears that a joint congressional committee plans to investigate how it comes about that people get into debt—but it would be much more illuminating to disclose how people keep out of debt nowadays.

The Detroit News credits an Ohio bartender with the statement that "television has made the biggest change in his life since the advent of the cash register."

Harry Wade presents the cheerful thought: "Winning a million bucks at the horse tracks is now within the realm of the possible—if you're a horse."

Word comes from Maryland that a plane with "a radical wing" has been successfully flown—which should prove interesting in political circles.

Looks Like It's Getting Overloaded.

DeWitt Mackenzie's Column

'World Revolution' Is Communist Goal

THE working committee of the United Nations commission for conventional armaments (those apart from atomic weapons) finally has decided that armaments can't be reduced and controlled until the big powers agree on a U. N. police force, atomic energy is leashed and peace treaties are made with Germany and Japan.

In short this momentous question, which is the crux of the effort to enforce world peace, is being temporarily shelved. The committee's explanation strikes us as being a bit of diplomatic shadow boxing because the blunt fact is that the United Nations can't function as a peace controlling agency until the cold war between Russia and the democracies has been settled.

Presumably this problem of enforcing peace will come up in the U. N. again—and then again and again. But it never can be solved until the issue of world revolution for the spread of communism has been dealt with.

A British viewpoint of the fundamental difference between Russia and the west is summed up by the weekly publication "Time and Tide," and I quote it because it represents the consensus of many objective observers:

"The issue is whether Russia means to carry on with or abandon her plans for the destruction of the democracies. If she will abandon them, there is no issue between Russia and the West which cannot be peacefully solved. The argument as to whether Russia wants war is beside the point.

"In all probability she does not want it now. From Russia's point of view a 'shooting war' is not to be undertaken until the process of internal erosion in the democracies has reached the point where only the very slightest push from without would be necessary to topple over the whole structure."

* * *

May Play for Time.

THAT'S the story. The battle of Berlin, and the innumerable other cold hostilities all hinge on bolshevism's efforts to communize the world. We shall get an easement of the German imbroglio, and the hundred and one other difficulties encircling the globe, if and when the Russians decide that they have carried their aggression about as far as they can for the present.

Such an easement wouldn't mean an end of the cold war but merely an armed truce. So long as a powerful Red dictatorship remains in control of Russia, just so long will the communist world revolution continue.

And the Red dictatorship will remain until the people under it decide that they have had enough and take matters into their own hands.

The trend of the German situation is likely to give us a fair gauge of Russia's intentions. She is bent on securing domination of Germany, and scarcely can be other than greatly disturbed by the way in which the three western democracies have gone ahead with the organization of an independent government in their zones.

It wouldn't be surprising to see the Muscovites make a gesture of playing ball with the allies in order to secure concessions and gain time to inaugurate counter action.

However, let us not fool ourselves into thinking that we can have peace while communism is reaching for power in all countries—not least in America.

'Cause and Effect' Story

By THOMAS L. STOKES

THIS is a simple story of cause and effect.

In its Philadelphia convention platform the new Henry Wallace Progressive party advocated a program of public ownership as a means of breaking "the grip of monopoly" on our economy, specifying that "as a first step, the largest banks, the railroads, the merchant marine, the electric power and gas industry, and industries primarily dependent on government funds or government purchases must be placed under public ownership."

The smug retort of those unacquainted with the extent of private monopoly would likely be that that is just a bunch of radicals representing nobody in particular who were put up to such a program by the communist element entrenched in the party's management. Maybe so.

But simultaneously here in Washington the Federal Trade Commission, after an exhaustive investigation, issued a report showing just how threatening the grip of monopoly is today.

By an array of statistics it reveals the very rapid acceleration of concentration of industry into fewer and fewer giant corporations.

For example, since 1940, 2,450 formerly independent manufacturing and mining companies with assets aggregating $5,200,000 have disappeared, been gobbled up into bigger corporations.

The report is studded with many similarly disturbing evidences of danger to the free, competitive system. It concludes with this solemn warning:

"No great stretch of the imagination is required to foresee that if nothing is done to check the growth of concentration, either the giant corporations will ultimately take over the country, or the government will be impelled to step in and impose some form of direct regulation in the public interest. In either event, collectivism will have triumphed over free enterprise, and the theory of competition will have been delegated to the limbo of well-intentioned but ineffective ideals.

"This is a warning which the commission has repeated time and again, and one which some of those who have most to gain by preservation of competition seemed determined to ignore."

It is the ignoring of this development, the failure of stewardship by some of our biggest business, that provoke such attitudes by third political parties. It might be remembered, too, that Great Britain already is well into the process that the Wallaceites recommend.

* * *

An Unplugged Loophole.

IT IS the simple story of cause and effect. The latest "Philadelphia Story" is lined with the latest Washington story on monopoly.

But Republicans and Democrats also deplored the growth of monopoly in their platforms adopted recently at Philadelphia and piously urged stricter enforcement of the anti-trust laws. There the Philadelphia stories and the Washington stories do not jibe.

For, just before their national conventions, the Republican Congress enacted into law over President Truman's veto the so-called Bulwinkle-Reed bill to exempt one of our greatest industries, the railroads, from the anti-trust laws. Legalizing of this private monopoly is going to cost us all plenty as consumers or shippers. Many Democrats joined Republicans in this adventure in inconsistency.

Other than passing the Bulwingle-Reed bill, Congress has been derelict in another direction, as the Federal Trade Commission pointed out.

Despite repeated urging by the commission, again in its business merger and concentration of industry report, Congress has failed to plug up a loophole by which these mergers are effected.

Bills to plug up this loophole, sponsored by Senator Joseph C. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and Rep. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), have been the subject of exhaustive public hearings. The Kefauver bill has been approved by the judiciary committee of the House, but is bottled up, like the housing bill, in the rules coommittee, that refuge of special interests. The O'Mahoney bill has been favorably reported to the Senate judiciary committee by a subcommittee.

If Republicans and Democrats meant what they said in their platforms about the increasing danger of monopoly, and want to save the free enterprise system from its own excesses and the nationalization proposed by the Wallace party, they could make a start in this special session of Congress with the O'Mahoney and Kefauver bills.

Why Russians Crave Control of Berlin

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — When Gen. Lucius Clay testified before a closed-door session of the House foreign affairs committee regarding Berlin, he was asked a question about the reconstruction of Germany. Before Clay could reply, Ambassador Robert Murphy, state department representative in Germany, interrupted to answer for him.

Unfortunately, Murphy said, it was impossible to get private capital interested in Germany. Though the banks are full of money, everyone in Europe fears that when the United States moves out of western Germany the Russians will move in, Murphy said. That would mean the confiscation of all private property.

Ambassador Murphy gave this as one of the chief reasons why the United States could not leave Berlin now.

"If we pull out of Berlin," Murphy told the congressmen, "people will say 'that is exactly what will happen in western Germany later.' It would undermine all confidence in us."

When a German sets up a business enterprise in the American zone of Germany even today, Murphy told the congressmen, a Russian agent is certain to come around and discreetly warn that if he continues his operation he will be put down in the Soviet black book. And when American troops move out and Russia moves in, he is told that he will be liquidated.

General Clay concurred with Murphy that this psychological factor was one of the biggest reasons why the United States had to stay in Berlin. To withdraw would mean the end of whatever confidence the U. S. A. had built up in western Germany.

Penetrate Iron Curtain.

GENERAL public reaction to the idea of going over the head of the Kremlin by floating weather balloons from France and Germany over Russia with messages and gifts to the Russian people has been favorable. Government reaction has been reasonably favorable—though slow.

Both government and private meteorological experts agree that the wind currents make the floating of such balloons entirely feasible. In fact, the Japs floated them all the way across the Pacific to Washington and Oregon. Their balloons, however, carried missiles of death; these would carry messages of friendship.

This columnist holds no brief for any particular means of reaching the Russian people. If any other way is better than balloons, fine. But I do maintain that as a nation we are doing almost nothing to get behind the Iron Curtain and show the Russian people that we are not what the Moscow propagandists say we are. Until we have some brake on the Kremlin to prevent it from declaring war overnight there will always be danger of war. That brake must be the Russian people.

* * *

Senator "Dick Tracy."

GENIAL Senator "Dick Tracy" Ferguson of Michigan is trying to hatch a super-duper congressional committee which would supersede all other committees. This committee would then turn its detectives loose on every part of the Truman administration.

In fact, it would give him more power than any other one man has ever had on Capitol Hill. In the past, individual committees of Congress have probed the particular fields in which they are interested — the Indian affairs committee investigated starvation among the Navajo Indians, the judiciary committee looked into justice department matters, the agricultural committee kept an eye on the department of agriculture.

Now Ferguson wants to have all investigations under one big detective committee.

A few senators are supporting him, but a lot of others object to making him the super-sleuth of Congress — specially since Ferguson is the man who made such a fool of himself in the Howard Hughes investigation.

Note—Ferguson is the man who didn't have the nerve to probe his own colleagues, Senators Thomas of Oklahoma and Brewster of Maine.

Education Bill May Win

By KENNETH L. DIXON

WASHINGTON — It is axiomatic that all good politicians must love children—from the baby-kissing stage on up—and, naturally, favor legislation to improve the lot of same, just as they must oppose death, high taxes and the man-eating shark.

So perhaps it will come as no great surprise to the average citizen to learn that the measure most likely to be passed by the hot and bothered Eightieth Congress during this special session is a bill supplying federal aid to education.

Or at least, so say leaders of both parties when separately quizzed on Capitol Hill.

Actually, from their different points of view, the Democratic and Republican spokesmen list a good many pieces of legislation which they insist can well be passed during this session. But the gimmich is that they seldom agree on the same measures.

The federal aid to education bill happens to be one of the very few which both sides feel can well be passed with a minimum of controversy.

One of the factors deemed likely to expedite its passage is a change of mind, even though not of heart, of certain southern states over the matter of whether the state's rights issue is involved.

Previously, some of the Deep South congressmen, eternally vigilant over the state's rights issue, had insisted they would oppose the measure due to certain phraseology which they felt would lead to considerable federal interference within the framework of their educational systems.

Recent revival of the Fair Employment Practices Commission issue did little to minimize their fears, to say the least. However, another factor has been brought forcibly to the fore in the matter—namely, that the same-states tending to oppose the federal aid bill are those whose educational systems need help the most!

After several huddles, it became probable — according to party leaders in the House—that the objections would be removed when the measure came up for debate.

Just how this would be accomplished remained to be seen, although it could be done by some re-phrasing of the measure to make it more palatable to the objecting states. Or, although this is less likely, the state's rights issue could be overlooked altogether in this instance in order to get the measure functioning in time for the forthcoming school term.

* * *

Some Revision Expected.

IN ANY CASE, the House probably will do considerable rewriting of the Senate-approved version of the education bill. Among other things, it is expected to trim considerably the Senate allocation of some three hundred million dollars a year for the project.

But, one way or another, the bill is expected to be one of the first major measures enacted into law by the special session.

A much more cloudy fate obviously awaits the more controversial measures, although Republican leaders solemnly insist that they can pass the anti-poll tax and anti-lynching bills that the President says he wants—if the President's own party will cooperate.

The catch of course, as the Republicans well know, is that the small but solid group of Southern senators is all set to filibuster until the cows come home before permitting passage of either measure. The fact that they are Democrats only pleases the boys acros sthe aisle.

Neither Republicans nor Democrats saw much likelihood of any action on price control, rationing, other civil rights measures, minimum wage increases or a revised statute on admittance of displaced persons.

The housing issue remains one of the most confused of all. Leaders of both parties insist, and in all apparent sincerity, that there is no reason why some constructive action cannot be taken by the special session. But they grow immediately vague on terms of such a measure—and the Republicans in particular tend to shy away from any talk of the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill.

Dave Boone Says:

It looks to me like Harry Truman managed to get himself surrounded at a time when he had practically won liberation. The only way he can hold Congress to the job he wants done is to close all travel in and out of Washington on the ground of "technical difficulties."

* * *

Why did Harry call Congress back to Washington anyhow? Look what happened when the Brooklyn schedule called Durocher back to Flatbush.

* * *

It may have been turnip day to the President, but it is already clear that to a lot of legislators it is just spinach week.

* * *

By the way, where can a man get a turnip now without a financing plan, and what is the first instalment?

* * *

The President issued a "score card" for the special session. It's going to be interesting to see who is left on base. Besides you and me, I mean.

Timely Editorial

Number One Problem.

For nearly two years the leading non-fiction seller, from coast to coast, has been Rabbi Liebman's "Peace of Mind."

Last week's surveys show that the new Dale Carnegie Book "How to Stop Worrying and Start Living," now is among the top five best sellers. In one listing it is already in second place. A third book, Dr. Norman V. Peale's "A Guide to Confident Living," is also high on the lists.

This could be a coincidence. But we're inclined to doubt it. In our disturbed and hectic age, the ability to stop fretting and keep a tranquil, untroubled mind is almost as rare as it is desirable. That people continue to grasp at it by buying, by the multiplied thousands, books of counsel with a spiritual background and now Carnegie's more practical, materialistic study is impressive evidence.—Columbus Dispatch.

As Cerf Tells It

Harold Stassen, recalling his early days in politics, told of one of his first campaign speeches in the Minnesota backwoods. "I know," he boomed to the audience of farmers and trappers, "that some of my opponents bribe constituents to vote for them. I have never paid a dollar for a vote and I never will."

"Fine, Governor," said the reporter who was interviewing Stassen. "How did your audience react?"

"Some of them cheered," answered Stassen, "but most of them got up and left."

Farmer's Diary

Just Blame the Weather

By CALVIN A. BYERS

I'VE SHARPENED the mower to cut our burdock crop before it goes to seed. Docks and nettles and thistles, wild carrots and ragweed will, we hope, become a part of our new compost heap.

DEBATE TOPIC: Resolved, that in a livestock system of farming the manure is less important in maintaining fertility than are the sods needed to produce roughage.

* * *

A KENTUCKY farmer bought a steep hillside, where a few tufts of grass was the only green thing growing. His horses liked the grass so he saved the seed, and planted more of it. Presently—after several years—the whole hillside was a fine green pasture, where his livestock grazed the year around. Neighbors took notice.

In 1931 this grass came to the attention of Kentucky experiment station, and it is now called Kentucky 31 Fescue—a valuable grass because adapted to a wide range of soils . . . providing pasture over a long period of time, growing well in combination with legumes and other grasses.

It is thought the original seed was brought from Virginia by early colonists. Seed supply is still short, however seed plots have been started all over Kentucky. Soon neighboring states may be able to get some of it . . . "Food is fabricated soil fertility." —Wm. A. Albrecht.

I NEVER minded the weather until this year. Always thought it was a joke when Uncle Malachi "felt in his bones" an approaching change of weather. Now I'm almost convinced that humidity and atmospheric pressure have a very definite bearing upon health of body and mind.

Tax Reports Due July 31

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Employers subject to the Ohio unemployment compensation law were told today that they have until midnight, July 31, to turn in both their tax reports and payments for the second quarter of 1948.

Frank J. Collopy, administrator of the bureau of unemployment compensation, said the reports and payments must be postmarked July 31 or earlier to avoid penalities as provided by the Ohio law.

Employers exempted from coverage and payment of the unemployment tax are private and parochial schools, charitable institutions, governmental units, those engaged in agriculture and those who employ domestics.

Collopy said employers who do not get their tax reports in by the July 31 deadline will be subject to a $5 penalty fee for each thirty days they are late up to maximum of $25. Employers who do not get their tax payments in on time will have to pay an interest charge above and beyond their normaal tax rate.

Draftees Will Get Kid Glove Treatment

FORT KNOX, Ky. — (U.P.) — Young men going into the Army under the draft will find things much different from those who went in a few years ago—thanks to the lessons learned in World War II and the universial military training experiment recently carried out here.

Already the lessons learned in UMT have been applied to the Third Armored division here, which is essentially a replacement training unit.

High ranking Army officers are now studying the UMT methods as used in the Third Armored division to learn how these can be applied in training the thousands of men soon to be drafted

Army Chief of Staff Gen. Omar Bradley visited the training center Tuesday and he told training officers "the petty annoyances that sent many World War II veterans away hating the Army must be removed."

The Army practically greets its new recruits with white kid gloves --and not those sported by tough military policemen. As Gen. Bradley says, the first officers and non-coms dealing with recruits must be the Army's finest.

The recruit is immediately taken to an orientation room where he is told his address, how long he will be in the camp, and other matters small to the Army but important to the individual

Then he gets a $5 partial payment so that he won't be broke his first few days in the Army.

FRIENDS OF MISS BIRCH ENTERTAIN AT PARTIES

Spinster Dinner to Be Given Tonight at Westbrook By Attendants of Bride-elect.

THE Misses Jean and Janet Kelly were hostesses Wednesday night at a party given for Miss Marian Lee Birch, Saturday bride-elect of L. J. Bennett. It was at the Kelly home, 135 Carpenter road.

The eight guests spent the first part of the evening fraying a tablecloth and napkins to be given to the honoree.

MISS MARIE SWEVAL

Later each guest wrote her name on a sheet of paper and, using each letter of her name as the initial, listed sentences of advice to a newly-married couple.

Refreshments were served at the close of the evening when guests were seated at the dining table. The floral centerpiece was in lavender and white.

A dessert bridge party and miscellaneous shower was given Tuesday night for Miss Birch. Miss Virginia Schaaf was hostess at the Westbrook Country club.

After dinner the ten guests adjourned to the clubroom where they played bridge. Prizes were won by Mrs. Robert Neese, Mrs. Harold Williams and Miss Birch.

Tonight Miss Ruth Preston and Miss Eleanor Bond will be hostesses for Miss Birch's spinster dinner at the Country club. The hostesses are to be attendants at the wedding which will be at 3:30 p. m. Saturday. Open church will be observed at the First Presbyterian church.

Marie Sweval Is Betrothed

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sweval, 425 Cline avenue, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Marie, to Otis Kiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kiner, Buffalo street, formerly of Perrysville.

Miss Sweval was graduated from Mansfield Senior high school and is now employed in the engineering department of the Westinghouse Electric corporation.

Mr. Kiner attended Perrysville high school. He is an employe of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

The wedding will take place early in the fall.

Jasper Browning Takes Bride In July 24 Marriage Rite

AFTER a short wedding trip through northern Ohio, Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Browning will reside at 74 North Weldon avenue. Mrs. Browning wore a black dress with gold accessories for her honeymoon trip. She had a corsage of white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Browning exchanged wedding vows Saturday at 5 p. m. in the First English Lutheran church with the Rev. Olan W. Aughbaugh officiating. Mrs. Browning is the former Norma Jean Ruth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Ruth, 269 Rowland avenue. Mr. Browning is the son of Mrs. R. D. McKinney, 475 Wayne street.

Mrs. Browning chose a gray linen dress with white accessories for her wedding. She wore a white rosebud corsage.

Mrs. Kenneth Sampsel, friend of the couple, was her only attendant. She wore a pink suit with gray accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Mrs. Ruth chose an aqua dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding.

Kenneth Sampsel, friend of the couple, served as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for immediate families.

Mrs. Browning is a graduate of Mansfield Senior High school and is employed in the auditor's office of the Mansfield-Leland hotel. Mr. Browning attended Mansfield Senior High school. He served three and a half years in the U.S. Navy. Mr. Browning is employed as an electrician at the Mansfield Plating company.

Miss Frontz To Say Vows Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. William Frontz, 147 Vale avenue, are announcing the enagagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Donna Joan, to Robert Jeffries, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jeffries, 435 McPherson street.

The wedding will take place Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. with the Rev. A. F. Lindbeck, pastor of the Mayflower Congregational church, officiating for the closed ceremony.

Miss Frontz has chosen Miss Norma Mitchell as her only attendant. James Layne will be the best man.

Miss Frontz is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and is employed in the office of Lumberman's Mutual Insurance company. Mr. Jeffries attended Mansfield Senior high school and is an employe of the steel mill.

Ida Jean Kain

Your Figure, Madam

If you had beautiful proof that a single exercise could get the best of a double chin, would it encourage you to take a toner-upper? Listen in on this telephone conversation.

"Miss Kain, do you have a minute to hear what one of your exercises did for me?"

The lady's voice sounded so cheery that I felt it must be something pleasant and told her I'd be happy to hear about it.

"Well, you know the chin exercise you gave awhile back—the one in which you have us lie on our back on the bed, head hanging over the edge of the bed, and then raise head to level of bed?"

"Yes, yes . . . go on . . ." I urged.

"I just want you to know that I haven't a sign of a double chin now, and I no longer have that old lady look about my chest." And then she told me that she is 74 years of age!

The previous day she had met a friend who had not seen her in a while, and the friend marvelled at how well she looked and told her she had lost her double chin and the old lady look. That's why she called . . . so that I might tell my readers.

She takes the exercises regularly, morning, noon and night . . . while listening to the news broadcast. She assured me she does it slowly, and only four times at each session, as instructed. The first returns were so encouraging she carried the exercise a bit farther and came up bringing her head and shoulders just slightly off the bed, and repeated this four times. She hesitated a second, then laughed as if a little embarrassed, and told me that believe it or not it had helped to strengthen the bust muscles! Well, it could. Continuing the movement extends the action to the pectoral muscles, and it is these muscles which help support the bust.

We had a wonderful chat on the phone, and I was so enthusiastic over her results that when I hung up I immediately took the exercise myself . . . and I've taken it twice a day ever since!

That chin exercise is very effective since the weight of the head is lifted against gravity which strengthens the neck muscles without pulling the skin.

MISS JEANNIE BOYLAN

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Boylan, 1818 Cook road, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Jeannie, to Donald John Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Chambers of R. D. 1, Lucas. Miss Boylan was graduated from the Lexington high school. Mr. Chambers is a graduate of Mansfield Senior high school and is employed with his father in construction work. No definite date has been set for the wedding.

Miss Waring Presides For Relief Corps

A short business session was conducted Wednesday night in Memorial Hall for the McLaughlin Woman's Relief corps. Mrs. Royal N. Waring, senior vice president pro tem, presided in the absence of Mrs. G. W. Locke, president, who is vacationing in Michigan.

The group decided to set the date for the annual picnic at the next regular meeting of the corps which will be Wednesday, Aug. 11, in the Memorial building. All members are urged to attend this session.

A communication was read from Mrs. Mary Koenman, the corps' adopted mother, who will observe her 81st birthday anniversary Aug. 2 at the Madison Home.

Eliminate Home Fires

By ELEANOR ROSS

Home and farm fires cost U. S. property owners more than two million dollars each year. And we are further informed that many of these fires start in trash-filled, cluttered-up basements and cellars.

So, if for no other reason than that of personal safety, it would be wise to do a complete cellar-clearing job. An added reason, apart from that of pride in every part of one's home, is that dirty basements also give lodging to disease-carrying rats. Fire and rats, that's a terrible twosome!

To thoroughly clean a basement, first remove all ashes, old magazines and newspapers and any other waste material that has accumulated. If kindling is kept in the basement, stack it in neat piles away from the heating unit where it will not absorb enough heat to ignite it—a frequent cause of fire in many parts of the country. When possible, keep kindling away from walls. Rats like dark places such as offered by stacks of wood, but they steer clear of material stored away more or less in the open.

Items that must be kept in the basement or down cellar should be well stored, their containers clean. If small amounts of oil or gasoline must be kept in the basement be sure they are stored in a cool place. Never keep flammable liquids in glass containers, because they break too easily, exposing their contents to flames, or even a stray, almost invisible spark.

After these basic suggestions have been followed, and the basement freed from trash and oil or gasoline properly stored, look around for necessary repairs. Damaged electrical wiring, leaky pipes and other fixtures in need of repair should be tackled. Then, when these are in order, how about a really good cleaning job, and perhaps a paint job as well to make the place look brighter? A day or so given to putting the basement in good order and repair is a practical investment for all home owners.

Philip R. Wentz and Bride Take Wedding Trip to Canada

AFTER Friday Mr. and Mrs. Philip Richard Wentz will be residing at 308 Spring street, the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wentz sr. The couple is honeymooning at Niagara Falls and in Canada this week.

Saturday morning at 11 o'clock Norma Jean Miller, daughter of Andrew Miller, 96 Spring street, became the bride of Mr. Wentz in a closed service at St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church. The Rev. John C. Melchert officiated for the double ring rite.

MRS. P. R. WENTZ

The bride was wearing a white dressmaker suit. Her headpiece was a wreath of flowers. She wore all pale pink accessories and her corsage was of red rosebuds and shasta daisies.

For traveling the bride changed to a powder blue crepe suit. Mrs. Wentz attended the wedding in a gray print afternoon dress.

The new Mrs. Wentz attended Mansfield Senior high school and is employed by the North American Knitting Mills. Her husband was graduated from Senior high school and is an employe of the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company.

Dress Kraut For Summer

Use sauerkraut, that renowned fall and winter favorite in its summer dress, crisp and tangy. Sauerkraut emerges as a perfect summer vegetable for salads, cold soups.

A friend who likes to experiment and who was out to find foods that were energizing and salty, came through with some recipes which she worked out and which she has permitted us to share with our readers.

First, is a peach of a cold soup. Sauerkraut Vichyssoise for 6 calls for leeks, 4 of them sliced, and only the inside, white portion used. Melt ¼ c. table fat, add the leeks and 1/3 sliced onion; saute 5 min. or until soft but not browned. Add 2 c. sliced potatoes and 3 c. chicken stock; simmer 30-40 min., or until potatoes are very tender. Press through a fine sieve; add ½ c. sour cream, one c. sauerkraut and salt and pepper to taste. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving, beat until smooth. Garnish each serving with chopped chives and a dash of paprika, for taste and eye appeal.

To make 4 portions of a tangy jellied consomme, soften tbsp. plain unflavored gelatin in 2 tbsp. cold water for 5 min. Add to a 10½-oz. can consomme and the remaining water; heat until gelatin is dissolved. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in one c. sauerkraut, ¼ c. diced cucumber, 1½ tbsp. chopped chives, and season to taste with salt and pepper. Chill. Serve with lemon wedges.

For a tangy salad, cool and refreshing, combine by tossing lightly, 2 c. sauerkraut, 1½ c. diced canned or fresh peaches, ½ c. diced celery, ¼ c. mayonnaise and tbsp. lemon juice. Serve on crisp lettuce or other salad greens. Makes 6 portions.

Schedule of Coming Events

The current revival of a Warner Brothers epic, vintage 1940, co-stars Frances Farmer with Pat O'Brien and John Garfield, and is a grim reminder of the tragic happenings that have befallen Frances Farmer in the past eight years. While her present whereabouts is unknown, she was last heard from in a small farming community called Haskell in Oklahoma—and "Flowing Gold," now playing in second and third run houses, is a melodrama of the Oklahoma oil fields. . . .

Somerset Maugham's current plans don't include attending the rumored wedding of his daughter to Lord Hope. . . .

Jimmy Vernon, former co-owner of La Martinique, tells friends he's going into the night club business in Hollywood.

The Nancy Walker—John Battles romance is enjoying a warm revival. . . . James Petrillo will campaign for Harry S. Truman. (Is that good?) . . . Betty Garrett's trip to this Coast is being taken primarily to to scotch the rift rumors, and iron out the actual difficulties that started the rumblings. . . .

Broadway character Swifty Morgan was robbed of $1,500 the other day—the sum was lifted from his hotel room. His screams could be heard from Lindy's to the Statue of Liberty. . . .

Bill Slocum's book "The Tax Dodgers" is in for plenty of excitement when it hits the Philadelphia bookstalls unless he deletes a chapter on a prominent citizen of the town of Brotherly Love. It's due to reach the libraries in October.

Doris Duke, who has left for Paris to join Porfirio Rubirosa, will take him on a globe-girdling trip in her privately-owned B-25. They'll skip the U.S., however. . . . Georgette Windsor has no chance of getting a big settlement from Harry Cushing. His "millions" actually boil down to a fairly good income from a trust fund he can't touch. . . .

John Lund, the sensation of "A Foreign Affair," has what is undoubtedly the least chic swimming pool in Hollywood. It's a 12-by-12 foot above-the-ground canvas job, war surplus type. The diving "board" is an old ladder, and what's more he has the contraption parked on the front lawn of his otherwise costly-looking California home. . . . Jo Stafford and Paul Weston are slated to marry as soon as Jo returns to California.

West Coast wisies wish they could tell whether the Cary Grant-Betsy Drake romance is as serious as it looks or (the cynics speaking) just a beautiful publicity build-up for the new actress and the new picture they're both in. . . .

Fans wouldn't have believed it was Hedy Lamar if they'd seen her traipsing about Manhattan last week — simple summery frocks, hardly any make-up and not a smitch of heavy glamour. . . .

Tommy Lyman croons "Falling In Love Again"—Marlene Dietrich's first big song hit over her, when Marlene and her husband, Rudy Sieber, hold hands at Leslie House. . . . The latest bobby-sox whim in Brooklyn is embroidering the names of the Dodgers all over the teen agers' dresses.

Lather Up For Charm

The American girl is the cleanest girl in the world.

So popular has the well-scrubbed look become that the soap, brush and wash-cloth motif sems to be the glamor insignia of today's woman.

Mother doesn't worry about daughter's "high water neck mark" as Granny did. Girls are taught the importance of good grooming in public schools and universities today."

Bare feet and leg fads make them conscious of well-scrubbed limbs. Off-the-shoulder gowns and strapless bathing suits demand that shoulders, neck and arms be kept sparkling clean. Girls even in modest circumstances develop a debutante look at an early age.

The best way to achieve naturalness, they find, is through warm water and soap. It is amazing that even teen-agers discuss soaps they like and prefer, and many of them use their allowance to buy a particular soap of their liking.

Good complexion brushes are used on shoulders, neck and face, heavier bath brushes for the back. In using complexion and bath brushes, special attention is paid to forehead, nose and chin, to the chest and area between the shoulder blades.

At night cleansing creams are used to remove makeup But after that is accomplished it is best to work up a good lather and scrub yourself until your "skin sings."

Rumpus Room In Good Spot For Sofa Bed

Double-duty sleeping equipment is a natural for use in a rumpus room. Today soft beds and studio couches are made in several different styles and covered with a variety of attractive fabrics, many of which have a rumpus room motif. An ideal arrangement would be to use one or two of these in place of a number of chairs scattered around the room. This would provide plenty of seating space, yet keep the floor uncluttered for dancing, games and other recreational activities. It would also provide daytime lounging facilities where Mother could take a nap or the children could spend after-school hours.

Perhaps best of all, these double-duty pieces would take care of extra guests by letting the rumpus room double for a guest room. Two studio couches or soft beds could take care of four guests with ease as they are simple to open and pull out, becoming well-built beds which comfortably accommodate two persons each

If a college student son or daughter should bring friends home for a week-end, the rumpus room could be turned over to them and all their activities centered in it during their visit. There are any number of times when an extra guest room would be convenient so that family activities would not be upset by a doubling-up on sleeping accommodations.

Refreshing Drinks

Actress Brenda Joyce offers these suggestions about warm weather refreshments. She varies fruit juices and cold drinks with things like a sprig of mint crushed in orange juice for a sparkling flavor, or a scoop of raspberry ice in a glass of pineapple juice for a mid-afternoon cooler. Incidentally, she offers the suggestion that a scooped out watermelon half or pineapple makes an attractive fruit container for the buffet table. Slice off a bit of the underside to make it stay firmly in place, and fill with orange and grapefruit pegs, cherries, berries, and melon balls.

For Friday, July 30

It is probable that very stubborn or crystallized situations, with limitations, frustrations and restrictions causing a perplexing and dubious state of affairs, may be conquered by steadfast and diligent adherence to sound routines. Such obstructions or stagnations may be definitely set aside by good work, born of ingenuity, brilliant ideas, faithfully put into execution and winning rewards.

Those whose birthday it is may plan for a period of industry, well-studied preparation, concerted attack of difficulties, delays, obstacles and congestions. The mentality may be adaptable and astute enough to tackle new techniques, ways and means for removing impediments, possibly with practical application of shrewd and novel ideas flashing into a forlorn impasse. Keen vision, quick action anad a flexible state of mind, may overcome and swerve matters to a place of free manipulation.

A child born on this day may be versatile, adaptable and shrewd.

Blonde Who Bared Red Plot Named

'Spy' Reveals Story to FBI

NEW YORK —(AP)— The blonde "spy" whose tip led to indictments of Communist party officials was identified Wednesday as Elizabeth T. Bentley.

New York newspapers carried her name and said she was the woman who has been subpoenaed to testify in secret before the House committee on un-American activities investigating "espionage activities in the government."

Her address was not revealed but she was described as a secretary-stenographer in a New York business house.

The World Telegram quoted her as saying "I am not enthusiastic about the publicity I shall now receive but, just as I went to the FBI and later appeared before the grand jury, I will now cooperate with the committee and any other American agencies which feel I can be of service."

Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the committee, pledged the testimony of Miss Bentley "and other witnesses soon will be presented to the public," the Journal-American said.

The U. S. attorney's office here declined comment on the story.

IDENTIFIED BY BUDENZ

The Journal-American said Miss Bentley's identification was made by Louis F. Budenz, former communist official, and was corroborated "by a source close to the House committee."

Budenz renounced the Communist party several years ago. He now is on the faculty of Fordham university.

The New York World-Telegram said Monday in a copyrighted story Budenz had told of working during the war with the blonde "spy," known as "Mary."

In earlier stories the World-Telegram had described "Mary" as responsible for the grand jury probe which led to indictments of 12 Communist party officials last week on charges of seeking to overthrow the U. S. government.

The blonde "spy" for a time headed a ring which sent information to Russia on American plane production, explosives and other war secrets, the World-Telegram said.

Her informants, the paper added, included an Air Forces officer, an adviser to President Roosevelt, an official of the War Production board, and other high personages.

"Mary" eventually broke away from the communists and went to the FBI with her story, the World-Telegram said. It declared the persons allegedly associated with her still were being investigated.

The paper said the "spy" was from New England and a graduate of a well-known women's college.

Cripps Backs Aid Policy

LONDON—(INS)—British Chancellor of the exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps defended in the House of Commons Wednesday his enlistment of American aid for British industry.

Members called his plan a "sell-out" and "an affront to our dignity."

But Cripps said the so-called Anglo-American productivity council will boost Britain's output and raise her standard of living.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN
Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Hidden Hollow Campers Organize 'Lukee Club'

The newest club to be formed at Hidden Hollow camp is the Lukee club of boy campers. President, vice president, secretary, and sergeant-at-arms of the club have set up the rules which all members must obey.

The rules include playing fair and square, obeying all camp rules, always telling the truth, obeying all counselors, eating all nourishing foods, and never "griping."

The password for the club is "Howdy Lukee."

Editor of the camp newspaper, "Hidden Hollow Echoes," attended initiation services of the club. Editor for the summer is counselor Beatrice Bourgeois.

The girls are now forming a club which will be called the S. G. club. Members will learn the full name when they are initiated.

Girls at the camp have formed sewing clubs and bridge clubs, and the boys golf and card clubs.

RACE DRIVER KILLED

WAUSEON — (AP) — Joel Brigham, 43, Toledo, died today from injuries received Sunday at Fulton county fairgrounds during the first horse race in which he had ever ridden. His horse stumbled and fell into the rail, hurling him into a utility pole. The horse died after the accident.

Shenandoah Church To Hold Festival

The Shenandoah Christian church will hold its annual ice cream festival Saturday evening in the parking lot north of the church.

The church recently purchased the 15 acres of land which surrounds the building. The land will be farmed and the proceeds will go for the upkeep of the church. In the future the church plans to use this land for recreation and expansion purposes.

President Plans Trip to Missouri

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The White House said today that President Truman, weather permitting, will fly to Missouri Saturday evening following a trip to New York to dedicate the Idlewild International airport.

The President will stop for only a few minutes in Washington on his return flight from New York before leaving for Kansas City to vote in the Aug. 3 Democratic primary in Missouri. He may be in Missouri through the following Thursday.

Worry of
FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating?
Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wabbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.—Adv.

Mansfield Army Recruiters To Sign Men For 21 Months

Capt. Robert L. Pine, commanding officer in charge of the Army Air Force recruiting station in Mansfield, announced today that the station has been authorized to enlist men for a period of 21 months.

Only men who have not previously served in the regular Army may enlist under the new program. They must be at least 19 years old and not yet have reached their 26th birthday. All enlistments are for the regular Army, unassigned.

Men who enlist under this program will be subject to the same provisions as those who are drafted. They will be transferred to a reserve unit of a National Guard component for five years at the time of discharge.

The Mansfield station already has exceeded the new quota set for this district, Pine said.

Tree roots extend out beyond the branches of the tree. Sometimes they ars twice as long as the height of the tree.

Lifebuoy with its Purifying Ingredient GETS SKIN CLEANER STOPS "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

Top 24-hour protection! A daily Lifebuoy bath stops "B.O."—gives you lasting, all-over protection. Yes, a Lifebuoy bath each day guards your charm as no other leading soap can! Be popular with Lifebuoy!

Lifebuoy is used in the homes of 40 million considerate Americans

DOCTORS PROVED it with 820 scientific tests!

The cleaner you get your skin, the doctors found, the safer you are from "B.O." (body odor). Any soap will remove all the grime and perspiration you can see. But it's the "invisible dirt," the doctors say, that may form a foothold for "B.O."

The doctors compared the effects of daily baths with different soaps. The results are amazing! Actually you are cleaner, safer from "B.O." when you take your daily bath with Lifebuoy. Doctors say Lifebuoy's clean-smelling purifying ingredient makes the difference. And this same purifying ingredient actually makes Lifebuoy milder ... safe even for a baby's tender skin!

So bathe daily with Lifebuoy ... because Lifebuoy gets skin cleaner, keeps you safer from "B.O."! Lifebuoy is made from a special oil blend that gives you such an abundant, refreshing lather. Remember: Lifebuoy gives you cleaner skin, stops "B.O." as no other leading soap can!

U. S. Air Power Converging on New York

Dedication Of Airport Scheduled

National Figures Will Participate

NEW YORK —(AP)—From air bases across the country, military planes will converge on New York City Saturday to take part in the biggest demonstration of American air power since the war.

President Truman, cabinet members, Republican Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey, high Army officials and a host of foreign emissaries will watch the display.

The show is in observance of the opening of New York International airport, the world's largest.

A heavy guard of 1,500 New York City policemen have been assigned to protect the President and other dignitaries who will occupy the reviewing stands during the 35-minute demonstration.

The stands and the 4,900-acre field will be under close police surveillance from midnight Friday until after the presidential party has departed.

Planes of the Navy, Marine Corps, Air National Guard and Air Force will participate in the show.

Staging its first mass review since unification of the armed service, the independent air force will put 700 planes in the air, including 200 B-29s ordered here from points as far as New Mexico and Arizona.

Navy and Marine Corps fighters and torpedo bombing craft will be part of the force of more than 1,000 airplanes that will rendezvous over the Atlantic, and then roar in over Long Island.

Shooting Stars, peeling off one by one from 3,500 feet, will stage a five-minute demonstration of jet dive bombing at targets a few hundred feet in front of the stands. An aircraft carrier deck will be reproduced on the field to show catapult and deck landing techniques.

MOTHER WATCHES SON DIE—Mrs. Evelyn Weaver holds the hand of her 14-year-old son, Joseph, as a fireman tries unsuccessfully to revive him in Los Angeles, Calif. He was suffocated when an earth-crushing machine which he was feeding caught his trouser leg and dragged him into it. The tragedy occurred at the adobe-brick manufacturing plant operated by the boy's father in suburban Los Nietos.—(AP Wirephoto)

Watch, $24 In Cash Reported Stolen

The theft of $24.50 in cash and a $25 wrist watch from the Schonauer Motor Sales company, 113 West Fourth street, was reported to police yesterday.

Robert Lantz, parts manager of the firm, said he found the rear door of the building open. The thief got $23 in cash from a bank bag and $1.50 in nickels from a soft drink vending machine. The key to the machine was in the bank bag. The watch was taken from a desk drawer.

'Cyclists to Camp at Park

Members of the YMCA Century Cycle club are looking forward to their first overnight camping trip.

The group will meet Thursday at 9 a. m. at the Carpenter school grounds with their bicycles and start out for Mohican State park near Perrysville where they will spend the night.

Blankets and food will be taken to the park in advance by automobile to ease the burden of the club members who will spend most of the day riding their bicycles.

The boys will spend the remainder of the day hiking along the park trails and receiving instruction in cookery and camp craft.

Fund For Victims of Museum Bond Purchase Keeps Growing

NEW YORK—As Henry Wallace continues on his lucrative way passing the hat and raising enormous sums for a program largely consistent with the political purposes of the communist treason, the collection for the so-called Minerley fund stands at about $5,000.

That is enough and, for the second time, I am trying to turn it off and close the account. This collection was started by an essay depicting the condition of James and Katherine Murray, who live in a little fourth-floor walkup in an old tenement at 316 East 49th street, New York.

They are, to the life, the luckless, poor American common man and his wife for whom Wallace has walled his saviouristic political concern up and down the country.

The Murrays and all their like are, in fact, old Bubblehead's principal means of political support and it was ironic that the Murrays proved to be victims of the shakeout whereby the great 26-story lamasery of the Roerich cult on Riverside drive was returned to the private ownership of Wallace's rich friend, Louis L. Horch.

★

In a mess of those mysterious court proceedings which were known by the euphemistic name of "reorganization" or "refinancing," Horch got possession of the big building which is now one of the most profitable apartment houses on the drive.

Originally, Horch and the members of the cult had publicly proclaimed that it was their gift to the people of the United States. However, this appears to have been one of those publicity plants whereby a man gets credit for a fine act of public generosity but first makes sure that he can't be taken up.

At the time of the "reorganization" you couldn't find tenants for the over-financed apartment houses in New York. Now the joss-house is a gold mine and the suckers are out.

A few weeks ago, following receipt of a letter from Mrs. Murray describing the condition of her invalid husband, a tubercular veteran of the first World war, and their hand-to-mouth financial condition, I reported that their dead assets included a $1,000 bond of the Roerich museum.

Although I called on them personally, I may have been guilty of careless reporting, for I identified them as James and Katherine Minerley. The reasons are that Mrs. Murray bought the bond in her maiden name in October, 1928, and, in depicting herself to me as a creditor of a typical bond promotion of those days, she used the name that appeared in the deal on the books.

They were married on Aug. 2, 1929. Moreover, during the long illness of Mr. Murray, she continued on the payroll of the Consolidated Edison company, where she worked as a scrubwoman, as Katherine Minerley.

She is now retired on a small Consolidated pension in that name, which also appears on their letterbox, along with "Murray."

★

The pension is not enough for a living, even added to Mr. Murray's $60 a month from the Veterans administration. Therefore, Mrs. Murray has continued work as a hotel chambermaid.

They are members of the parish of St. Boniface at Second avenue and 47th street and the Rev. Joseph Urbanowski, an assistant pastor, has so certified.

How many other Jim and Katherine Murrays were shaken out in the reorganization of the Lamasery bond job I do not know.

James-Grable Stable Cleans Up; Walters Beats Night Club Slump

MUCH ADO ABOUT LITTLE—The Betty Grable-Harry James stable is cleaning up. The combined incomes of the pair will exceed $1,000,000 this year. That's a seven-league leap from the Betty we knew when she arrived in Hollywood with her parents. Her father had resigned a job in a St. Louis brokerage office to gamble on her talents, her charms and a letter to Hunt Stromberg . . . Betty's mother had suffered a dislocation as a result of her birth, and was partially incapacitated. She was so eager that her daughter should enjoy the full use of her limbs, she started her dancing early, as exercise. Instead of becoming muscular, the girl's gams took on the outlines which have been the foremost factor in her progress . . . Her dad, Con Grable, is now her financial manager, handling Betty's twin gold-mines —legs and nags.

★

Is there no end to this? Now a Barbizon cover-girl has registered herself as Beverly Hills . . . Yet that, while it's hard to swallow, doesn't choke me. But the following item you can play on your piccolo. I pass it on to you verbatim: "Thalia Tregaskis, niece of Katina Paxinou, has liquidated Hermes Pan for Rory Glamurescu."

★

While nightclub business is rather awful, Lou Walters, the wonderman of that trade, keeps filling up his Latin Quarter every night in a room which had been the jumping off place for a dozen who tried before him. This Boston boy is our top showman, who moved in where George White went broke right ahead of him and struck a gusher.

He began as an office boy in a booking agency at $4 a week and now grosses $1,500,000 a year. His theatrical experience has run from a stock company in Nova Scotia to producing a "Ziegfeld Follies" and other extravagant musicals. He has "presented" in every hamlet and major center on the map.

President Truman will be with us Saturday, honor guest at the public opening of New York International (Idlewild) Airport, on Long Island. He will sit close to Gov. Dewey, reviewing 1,400 fighter planes, bombers, troop transports and other craft representing all our military service. This is a high spot of the Golden Jubilee celebration of Greater New York, which was consolidated in 1898. The whole gala is under direction of Grover Whalen, our most urbane citizen and our most civic-minded, who is a genius at managing such events.

It Could Happen Only in Brooklyn—One Rosen, who owned the Enduro restaurant there, felt it was time to unload . . . So he sold it to one Pechter (the "bread king"), who paid him a substantial price, cash on the tish . . . Rosen, now having no business to mind and having dough in the kick, went to the track . . . He bet $1,000 on a horse, one of the few who did, for it paid off 25 to 1 when it won by a nose . . . So Rosen went back to Pechter and bought back the Enduro—giving Pechter a handsome profit.

Schettler To Head Fund Drive

Church Finance Plan Mapped at Meeting

Judge Herbert H. Schettler last night was named campaign chairman for the raising of funds to build the proposed First Congregational church at Marion avenue and Millsboro road.

Judge Schettler will be assisted in the campaign by Fred A. Hout as planning chairman.

Members of the building committee, headed by H. B. Soulen, chairman, Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor and other church officials met at the parsonage to map plans for the fall campaign. Henry Sanford, moderator of the church, presided at the meeting.

Plans outlined last night call for a training course for 50 members of the church who will help conduct the campaign, Hout said.

"Following this training course, we will have a congregational meeting, which will be the official "kick-off" for fund raising," he said.

"We hope to complete the campaign by the end of September."

PLANS CHANGED

Original plans for the church called for a four-unit building-sanctuary, chapel, educational and social unit and a Sunday school room. However, the increasing cost of building materials and labor has forced a change in plans and it is expected that only a part of the four-unit project will be built now.

In outlining his plans for the campaign, Hout said today he expected to have a complete brochure ready for the training course the first of September.

"This will include pictures and all the necessary information so that when workers go out to raise money for the new church, they'll know exactly what they are talking about," Hout said.

Although original plans called for the expenditure of about $300,000, Hout said today it wasn't determined last night exactly what amount would be fixed as the campaign goal.

City Visitor Dies at 83

Miss Grace Straub, 83, of Dayton, died Wednesday evening at People's hospital after a brief illness. She was stricken while on a visit here.

The daughter of Jacob and Louise Straub, pioneer residents of Mansfield, Miss Straub spent the early part of her life in this city. She was visiting at the home of Daniel Straub, 119 Lexington avenue, when she became ill. She was born April 5, 1865 in Mansfield.

Surviving is one brother, Edward Straub, of St. Paris, O.

The body was removed to the Wappner funeral home where it will remain until Friday morning when it will be removed to St. Paris for services at 2:30 p. m., Friday at the Richeson and Wickham funeral home. Burial will be in the Myrtletree cemetery there.

Dog Ordered Tied

County Dog Warden C. H. Hill ordered a dog tied up for 10 days after it bit W. E. Druschel, 199 North Benton street, last night at GBU park. Hill said the dog belonged to the caretaker of the park.

Lions Hear Argentinian

Student Urges Better World Understanding

An Argentine exchange student's views on world understanding and peace were voiced last night for Mansfield Lions club members by Mrs. Rita Guzman Nolte of Ashland college.

Addressing club members at the Mansfield - Leland hotel, Mrs. Nolte touched on the world situation, saying:

"If people of different countries would visit other countries and live with the people, we would have a better understanding between one another.

"It's hard to judge a country without knowing its people," Mrs. Nolte continued. "Most of us judge a country by its politics, which doesn't give the citizens of that country a fair chance in the eyes of the rest of the world.

"The United States is a great country. I now have two countries to call my own — Argentina and the United States," Mrs. Nolte added.

The attractive brunette, who came to Ashland college 10 months ago as an exchange student from Argentina, last spring married Philip Nolte, who was graduated from the college in May.

During the last several months, Mrs. Nolte has filled speaking engagements on world relations throughout Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Flying Prohibition Candidate 'Sure'

By NITA BRANSON

Dr. Claude A. Watson, Prohibition party candidate, who took off from Mansfield airport in his private plane about 8:45 a. m. today, expects to be in the White House next January.

"We've already planned for a redecorating scheme when the Democrats move out," he said, looking to Mrs. Watson for confirmation.

Mrs. Watson nodded emphatically.

"I'm already in the White House," she said.

"Do you think you'd like being the President's wife?" she was asked.

"Of course, who wouldn't?" she replied.

Claiming to be the only presidential candidate who ever landed at the Mansfield airport in his private plane while campaigning, Dr. Watson, accompanied by Mrs. Watson, left today to continue an air tour of the country that cover over 100,000 miles by the time they land at Birmingham, Ala., in August. They began the trip in Los Angeles, and have already covered 30,000 miles.

Dr. Watson came to Mansfield to speak at the annual conference of the Free Methodist church now being held at the camp meeting grounds on the Lucas road.

"Our campaign is a crusade for a cleaner, better America", Dr. Watson said yesterday afternoon. "It is a crusade for an honest, efficient Democratic government in which the rule of Christ instead of the rule of rum will be recognized."

Taking as his subject, "God's Plan for Civil Government," Dr. Watson declared, "It is often said that ministers should not discuss politics in the pulpit. Let us learn the definition of the word "politics." What is politics? Polities is nothing more or less than the science of government. If God is the author of government, certainly the minister has a perfect right to discuss the science of government in his pulpit.

"If God is the author of government, then He is the author of righteous government. If He desires a righteous government, then who is to administer such a government? I answer, Righteous men are to administer such a government. I get this from the Book (Bible). It is my authority.

"If we are ever to incorporate the ethics of Christianity and the ideals of Christ into government, it must be done by believers in those principles organizing as a political party and securing control of government for the purpose of writing these principles into law and making them effective in government.

"The thing that has made America great," he concluded, "has been the family altar. So when you go to the polls on election day, and you see the names listed there, which will you vote for? For the continuance of the family bar or the family altar?"

In the audience last night were dozens of WCTU members who came here from all over the state. More than 1,000 attended.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Today is the occasion for a double celebration at the Maurice W. Stretch home at 187 Poplar street. Both Stretch and his wife are celebrating their birthdays. The actual celebration will be postponed until the weekend when they are expecting guests from out of town.

STRETCH

Stretch is an assistant works engineer at the Westinghouse Electric corporation where he has been employed for the past 25 years.

He is a member of the Masonic order, the Elks lodge, and the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. Both he and Mrs. Stretch are members of the Central Methodist church.

His hobbies are music and putting on amateur shows. Mrs. Stretch collects street car tokens and likes to do fancywork.

Also celebrating a birthday today is Earl Black of 986 Woodland road. Black is a salesman.

Schunatz Child Dies at Birth

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Schunatz jr., 143 Lexington avenue, died at birth Wednesday night at Mansfield General hospital.

Surviving are his parents; a sister, Rita; his paternal grandfather, John Schunatz sr., and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frank Gremling, Mansfield.

Graveside services will be held Friday at 10 a. m. in St. Peter's Catholic cemetery. Funeral arrangements are in charge of the Geiger funeral home.

62 Pupils Would Be Added

City Studies Boulevards Plan

The Mansfield board of education will have to find room in the city's already-crowded schools this fall for 62 South Boulevards children if the suburban village is annexed to the city.

Action on annexation of the village is due at a session of city council Tuesday night. The annexation resolution, which is expected to pass, will become effective a month later, bringing South Boulevards into the city Sept. 2.

Neither the Mansfield nor Madison school board has taken any action on the school phase of the merger, waiting until annexation is authorized.

South Boulevards elementary pupils probably would attend the Hedges and Woodland schools while junior high school pupils would go to the Appleseed school. Most of the Boulevards grade pupils now attend Woodville school.

SHARE DEBT

County Supt. Boyd Robinson said the Mansfield district would be required to assume South Boulevards' proportionate share of school debt in the Madison district. This would be figured on the basis of property valuations.

The apportionment would be worked out by the clerks of the two school boards.

County Auditor Norman L. Wolfe said that as of Dec. 31, 1947, the Madison township schools have school building bonds outstanding in the amount of $383,000, including a general issue and an East Mansfield school issue.

The 1949 tax duplicate shows that property valuation in Madison township is $10,000,000. Of that amount $1,200,000 is in South Boulevards, Wolfe said.

On the basis of these figures, the debt that probably would be assumed by the Mansfield city district would amount to about $42,040.

Spotlight On Loudonville

SHELBY — Col. R. W. Dyer, commanding officer, 831st AF Specialized Depot, Shelby, today announced a "feature program" over Ashland radio station WTAG Friday evening at 7:30 (DST). The town of Loudonville and community will be featured in this program.

The program will open with a brief historical synopsis of the settlement and development of the town of Loudonville. A singing quartet, George Haudenschild, Marvin Vaughn, Dick Currens, and Bill Remington, from the community will be presented.

Rev. Clifford Leach, pastor of the Presbyterian church of Loudonville, will then tell of the present day social and civic activities of the town and community.

Two Brothers Enlist For Army Service

Two brothers enlisted yesterday for three years' service, the Mansfield Army and Air Force recruiting station announced.

The brothers, Chester and Virgil Masters, Mansfield, R. D. 4, will report to Fort Dix, New Jersey, for their basic training before being reassigned to the 24th Infantry division.

Rainbow Veterans To Picnic Saturday

The Mansfield Swigart chapter, Rainbow Division Veterans will meet at Long lake near Loudonville Saturday for their annual picnic supper.

The picnic committee has planned an entertainment program which will begin at 4 p. m. and will be followed by the serving of the picnic supper at 6:30 p. m.

18 DIE IN CRASH

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—Maritime police said 18 persons were killed today and four were injured in the crash-landing of a flying boat.

Split Bills Prove Costly

Mansfield's detective bureau was informed today that William Elmer Lively, 23, Lexington, who had a weakness for pasting split $1 and $10 bills together, has been sentenced to a year and a day in a federal penitentiary.

The sentence was passed in the federal court in Cleveland. The penitentiary where Lively serves his sentence will be determined by the attorney general, detectives were told Lively was arrested on July 16 for attempting to pass "stepped up" currency in a Mansfield restaurant and in a cafeteria where he was employed. Police said he had neatly split a $10 bill and pasted the parts on $1 bills.

Two Suspects Held In Delinquency Case

A 24-year-old man, resident of the Pennsylvania railroad camp, and a 17-year-old Park avenue east youth today were held in the county jail for investigation.

Sheriff's deputies said the two were held for investigation in connection with an alleged attempt to contribute to the delinquency of a 12-year-old boy.

Cleveland Drops Back Into Third Place

(News-Journal Sports Editor)

THIS MID-SUMMER football training business is tough on the waist-line or is it waste-line. . . . Dick McMullen, the Mansfield gridder trying for a guard post with the Baltimore Colts, drops us a line that he lost six pounds in the first light drill. . . . Dick checked in at 225 at the Colts' Sun Valley training base. . . . Even at that figure he was the "smallest" of the 12 guards in the camp. . . . Only six will be kept. . . . Nine of the 12 have had from one to five years pro experience. . . . Twenty-four writers will cover the Olympics for the United Press. . . . A 15-man American Association all-star team has been chosen by sport writers. . . . The only unanimous choice was Al Rosen, the Cleveland Indian chattel, playing for Kansas City. . . . The squad follows: Les Fleming, Indianapolis, first; Jack Cassini, Indianapolis, second; Rosen, third; Pete Castiglione, Indianapolis, short; Damon Phillips, Milwaukee, utility infielder; Eric Tipton, St. Paul, Ted Beard, Indianapolis, Jim Gleeson, Milwaukee and Marv Rickert, Milwaukee, outfielders; Ralph Houk, Kansas City and Earl Turner, Indianapolis, catchers; Al Epperly, Milwaukee, Jim Bagby, Indianapolis, Harvey Haddix, Columbus and Bob Mallov, Indianapolis, pitchers. . . . No all-star game will be played but all players will receive awards from the league.

FROM THE MAIL BAG:

Dear Mr. Tharp:

I note that the News-Journal has stated several times that the Ohio Brass Girls' have been beaten once by Tappan Stove. We protested that game, due to poor officiating, and it is to be played over, since both teams are agreeable to replaying the game. You can check Mr. Kamen (city recreation director) on this if you wish.

M. BIRMELIN
Ohio Brass Manager.

(Editor's Note: Tappan Stove did beat Ohio Brass, 14 to 13, July 20 and the N-J carried notice of the protest. However, the protest committee of the softball commission has not acted as yet so no arrangements have been made for replaying the game. The group will make the final decision on the disposition of the protest. It is a fact, though, if your protest is based wholly on poor officiating nothing will be done. All softball officials are certified competent by the umpires' association. A protest may be allowed an or interpretation of the rules. You may regard this as official since the proprietor of this column happens to be president of the Mansfield softball commission).

Larry Doby Hit on Head In 4-3 Loss

CLEVELAND — (INS) — They say that anything can happen in baseball, and on the Cleveland Indians' team, it does.

For proof, just look at the Tribe's game yesterday with the Philadelphia Athletics at the lakefront stadium.

With the Redskins ahead, 3-2, in the eighth inning, a fly ball was hit to Larry Doby in left-center field. The rookie outfielder lost it in the sun and it hit him squarely on the head, permitting two runs to score. The Tribe lost, 4--3.

Although Doby was the one who was hit on the head, Manager Lou Boudreau and Bob Lemon, the losing pitcher, suffered the worst headaches.

LOST IN SUN

The ball was in Dale Mitchell's territory and he called for it. Boudreau also called for Mitchell to take it, but Doby just kept coming and moved in front of the left fielder. A moment before he would have made the catch, he lost it in the sun.

The two runners, Barney McCosky, who had singled, and Ray Coleman, who had walked, easily scored the tying and winning runs in a contest that dropped the Indians to third place, two percentage point ahead of the fourth place Yankees.

Lemon, who put the two runners on base in the eighth, was relieved by Christopher after he walked Coleman The move would have saved the game, for Rudy York fouled out before Don White lifted the easy fly to Doby.

Cleveland opened the scoring in the third when Lemon doubled to left-center and Allie Clark poled his fourth home run of the season into the left field stands. Mitchell and Joe Gordon also hit safely in that round but were unable to score.

TIES UP GAME

The Athletics tied it up in the fifth when Sam Chapman, Pete Suder and Buddy Rosar singled, scoring one run, and McCosky lifted a long fly to center to score the other run.

Cleveland added one unearned run in the sixth Gordon beat out a single along the third base line and took second on a sacrifice by Ken Keltner. He scored when Eddie Joost, who had taken Eddie Robinson's grounder, threw wildly to third in an attempt to nail Gordon.

Although the Indians rapped 10 hits off Fowler, eight of them came in the first four innings and only one in the last three. Lemon gave up only six hits, but three of them were in the fifth.

The Indians have an off day today before meeting the league-leading Boston Red Sox in the first of a four-game series tomorrow. Gene Bearden, Bob Feller, Sam Zoldak and Bob Lemon are slated to hurl the series in that order.

Mansfield Grays Advance To State Tourney Semis

ADA—With lanky Jack Hammett spinning a masterful three-hitter, the Mansfield Grays advanced to the semi-final round of the National Baseball Congress state tournament here yesterday.

The Grays eliminated the Leesville Reds, 3 to 1, to reach the round of four. Mansfield will play again here Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. If they win that one, the Grays will battle for the Ohio championship Sunday night in Lima's Halloran park.

Hammett spaced three singles as he copped a mound duel from W. Eckert. The lone Leesville run came in the last of the ninth inning. Eckert blanked the Mansfield aggregation until the eighth, when Red Hamman clouted a homer with Jim Meeting and Shelly Swank on base.

GETS 10 HITS

The Mansfield outfit collected 10 hits with Kenny Funk leading the way with a trio of singles. Hamman added a double to his home run while Hammett had a brace of one-base wallops The Grays' pitcher recorded 14 strikeouts and did not walk a man.

Dub Lockhart, Grays' outfielder, hauled down a long drive in left-center for the fielding gem.

Thomas Hurls Madison Nine To 1-to-0 Win

Ed Thomas, Madison high school football star, made his first start as a baseball pitcher last night and completely mystified Lexington on the Blue Goose diamond.

Thomas pitched and batted the Madison township team to a 1-to-0 County junior league victory. Thomas gave up three hits, the same number his mates garnered off Dick Dill.

Madison picked up the game's only run in the first frame when Bob Wilson singled to center and stole second. Thomas's double plated the lone tally.

New Bosses Boost Bums, Giants

By JACK HAND

The Burt-Shotton-Leo Durocher managerial shakeup is proving a tonic to both the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants

Since kindly old Burt replaced Leo at Ebbets Field the Dodgers have swept 11 of 15 starts Under the fiery Durocher, the Giants have won nine of 14 games

Brooklyn's surge toward the top of the National league has been the most exciting news in the circuit. Even before the change, the Dodgers were rolling Now the count is 20 won and six lost since that dark evening July 2 when they were stretched on the cellar floor.

The Brooks made friends and influenced people in Flatbush by thumping the Cards yesterday, 12 4, dropping St. Louis into a third place tie with the hustling Giants. Brooklyn remains 5½ games behind first place Boston.

Every regular hit safely in the attack, that included Tommy Brown's second homer of the season. The young third sacker, who rode the bench in early season, has been an important cog in recent Brooklyn victories.

The Giants who are supposed to have no pitching, got their second straight shutout against Cincinnati as Clint Hartung blanked the hapless Reds with three hits, 5-0 Larry Jensen applied the whitewash the night before

Close observers of box scores probably were astonished to note the name Walker Cooper in the stolen base column. But it was true. The slow-footed Giant catcher hustled over to second while Herm Wehmeier took his windup Another incident that does not show in the box was Johnny Mize scoring from first on Willard Marshall's double. The home-run-hitting Mize never has been noted for his speed afoot.

Vern Bickford, now the league's top pitcher on a won and lost, percentage basis, weathered two shaky innings to hurl the Boston Braves to an 8-2 victory over Pittsburgh. For Bickford it was win No. 7 against two defeats.

Eddie Sawyer's Phillies won their first game for their new manager, 9-4, over the Chicago Cubs who spoiled Sawyer's debut Tuesday. Peanuts Lowrey, Clyde McCullough and Rube Walker hit their first homers of the season for the Cubs Del Ennis, Eddie Miller and Andy Seminick for the Phils

The Boston Red Sox' winning streak finally ended at 13 as Detroit's Dizzy Trout applied the brakes, 13-0 There was no doubt about this one after the first two innings, when the Tigers ran up an 8-0 lead, knocking out Denny Galehouse.

Philadelphia topped Cleveland, 4-3.

Frank Shea, a New York Yankee problem child, needed help from Allie Reynolds in the ninth to blank St. Louis, 4-0. The Browns had only three hits, but Shea was yanked when he walked two with nobody out in the last inning.

Marino Peretti, pint-sized Chicago hurler, performed his specialty—beating his old Washington mates—as the White Sox made it two in a row over the Senators by the same 2-1 score.

Mansfield Legion Juniors Cop 16th Straight, 11 to 0

Mansfield's American Legion Junior baseball team ran its winning streak to 16 in a row yesterday on the Liberty park diamond.

The Mansfield outfit had an easy time with a Sandusky all-star junior outfit, beating them 11-0 behind a classy bit of hurling by Ray "Dutch" Bader and Lou Gregorio. They gave only one hit, a double by Hallo in the fifth inning. Bader whiffed 10 and Gregorio 5.

Manager Dewey Durant used 15 players and they contributed 12 base knocks.

Two Mansfield Clubs Lose Out In Meet

BUCYRUS—Seven Mansfield teams were left in the chase for district softball laurels today.

Two of the Mansfield clubs bowed out as the district meet opened here last night. American Veterans Committee was scrapped by Marion W. and W. Provision, 9 to 1, while Tappan Stove was edged out by Galion Perfection Steel Body, 6 to 2.

Penn-Auto Sporting Goods was the lone Mansfield team to survive the opening night. Gene Miller's single with the sacks loaded in the last of the eighth enabled Penn to eliminate Bucyrus Lone Pine, 7 to 6.

A single run in the last of the seventh by Penn sent the game into overtime. Miller added a home run and single to his game winning blok. Hightower, Bucyrus pitcher, walked eight. He and Jim Musille, Penn, each permitted seven hits.

KANZ INJURED

Dick Kanz, Tappan mound ace, sprained his ankle sliding into second base in the second inning. Kanz had to retire from the game and may be out the remainder of the season. The Stove nine collected only three hits.

Three more Mansfield Class A teams are scheduled to see action tonight.

Farm Tools, Mansfield's winningest team, opens the card at 7:15 p. m. against the Crestline Eagles. The Toolmen, Industrial league leaders, have won 24 and lost three games.

The Veterans of Foreign Wars club meets Upper Sandusky Budds Sports in the second clash with Ohio Sport Center closing the program against Upper Sandusky Baldridge Auto Service. VFW leads the Mansfield Club circuit.

Lions Get Former Ohio State Star

DETROIT —(AP)— Charles F. Sarratt, University of Oklahoma triple-threat halfback for the past three seasons, was acquired today by the Detroit Lions of the National professional football league.

The Detroit team also picked up Paul Sarringhaus, 27, of Hamilton, O., formerly of Ohio State university. Obtained by the Lions in 1946 via waivers, he played briefly with them and then finished that season with the Cardinals. He later was made a free agent and did not play in 1947. He is a halfback.

Two Church Softball Games Listed Tonight

Two games are on tonight's Church softball league schedule.

B'nai B'rith goes against First Presbyterian at Liberty park and First Congregational meets United Brethren at North Lake park. First Congregational is second in the league with six wins and one defeat.

Varsity letter awards were made to 133 Bowling Green State university athletes this year in a nine-sport program.

Jimmy Regula Blanks Shelby With No-Hits

Gorman-Rupp's "Jim "Stretch" Regula turned in his top mound effort of the season last night as he pitched a no-hit, no-run contest over Shelby VFW on the G-R field.

A three-run burst in the fourth inning gave the Mansfield team its 3-to-0 victory. Regula struck out five and his recent wild streak appeared cured as he gave up only two free tickets to first.

Ennis Walker, the new Madison football coach, was the hitting star for Gorman-Rupp, scoring one run and getting two of the five hits.

Gorman-Rupp plays at Tiffin tomorrow night.

Huron Baseball Tourney Slated

NEW LONDON — The third annual Huron county baseball tournament will be held on the New London field this year.

A meeting will be held in the New London City hall at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 4, to arrange details.

Eight teams generally compete in this tournament. In 1947 Willard won the tourney.

Group Adds 3 Prominent Tribesmen

Three more prominent Cleveland baseball personalities were today added to the list which will be guests at the Optimist club's baseball banquet next Wednesday at Richland Recreation.

Bryce McMahon, president of the club, announced that Indians' vice-president Hank Greenberg and sportcasters Jack Graney and Jimmy Dudley have agreed to come here for the fete along with President Bill Veeck.

The Indians' management also agreed to send two players but their identity will not be known for several days. The Optimists have asked for Lou Boudreau and Satchel Paige.

ALL WELL-KNOWN

Greenberg is well-known here, having filled two speaking engagements in the city within the past month. Graney and Dudley give the play-by-play of all Cleveland games over WJW, Cleveland and affiliated stations. One of these is WATG, Ashland, where the broadcasts are sponsored by Richland Recreation.

Graney was a member of the Cleveland's only pennant winner in 1920, cavorting in the outfield under Tris Speaker.

Tickets for the banquet may be purchased at West's Dry Cleaners, Doc Hamman's, Met's Auto Supply, Mayer Drug Store, Richland Recreation and McMahon Supply in Mansfield and Stahl hardware in Ashland.

Bob Rose of WAJG, Ashland, will serve as toastmaster.

Two Hot Stove Junior Games Slated at G-R

First night junior baseball double-header in Mansfield will be staged at the Gorman-Rupp field starting at 6:15 p. m. today.

Four teams from the Hot Stove Elementary league (12 years and under) will participate. Proceeds of the bargain bill will go into the Hot Stove fund to provide baseball equipment for Mansfield's youngsters.

St Peter's will battle Bowman in the first game with Newman going against Prospect in the second. Prospect leads the league with 12 wins and one defeat while Newman has copped 11 of 12 contests.

St. Peter's is backed by Army Recruiting, Prospect and Newman by Liederkranz and Bowman by Central Fruit.

Bobby Mitchell Rides High On Randall Track

CLEVELAND — (INS) — Bobby Mitchell is riding high again at Randall track.

The youthful Oklahoma jockey, who was an apprentice sensation at the track last year, booted home two winners on yesterday's program to run his victory string to 14, one better than apprentice Wilbur Wood's total.

Olympics Formally Get Started Today

By LEO H. PETERSEN

LONDON—(UP)—After being twice delayed by war, the Olympic games will return to the world scene today with the official opening of the 1948 games at Wembley stadium by King George VI.

Pageantry and color were to mark the formal start of the international sports super-carnival as athletes from 61 nations parade in their official uniforms. At 4 p. m. London time King George was scheduled to speak the 16 words that would start the festival:

"I proclaim open the Olympic games of London celebrating the XIVth Olympiad of the modern era."

The announcement will follow the lighting of the fire that must burn until the games are concluded in other ceremonies on August 14.

The fire will be lighted from a torch originally kindled at Olympia, Greece, site of the first Olympic games.

Actual competition in the games will not begin until tomorrow.

The United States, despite reports of some dissension among squad members, was still a prohibitive choice to take the unofficial team title. Cast in the role of a dark-horse was Sweden, the only nation which figured to win nearly as many events as the Yanks.

AMERICAN EVENTS

A consensus of coaches and contestants was that the U. S. A. was sure to dominate men's track and field, men's swimming, basketball, rowing, and weight lifting. The Yanks were rated "probable" winners in the boxing tournament and "possible" champions in the modern pentathlon.

If the Americans live up to these predictions, they will walk off with the unofficial title. There is no official point score or team championship in the Olympic games.

Sweden was given a good chance to win six events—soccer, water polo, canoeing, gymnastics, shooting, and (if the Americans miss), the modern pentathlon.

The women's competition, the Americans were slight choices over Holland in track and field and over Denmark in swimming.

The American squad goes into the games singularly free of any serious injuries. There were a raft of minor bruises and cuts, however.

LONDON — (INS) — Romanian withdrawal from the 1948 Olympic games appeared certain just before opening time today.

As the various contingents began to line up at Wembley stadium for the opening parade, there was no sign of the Romanian contingent.

Bulgaria previously withdrew. Expectations are that 59 nations will be represented.

Bobby Feller Knows More(?) Than Doctor

CLEPELAND — (UP) — Pitcher Bobby Feller of the Indians disagreed with his doctor, Dr. A. L. Austin, today as to whether or not there was anything seriously wrong with his pitching arm.

Dr. Austin, a bone specialist, said he told Feller to have three or four treatments or else he would be "through" as a pitcher

Feller, declaring the doctor never told him anything of the sort, said, "My arm is perfect."

Dr. Austin, who has been treating the Cleveland fire-ball hurler at various times since 1937, said he had discovered a condition of the muscle in feller's arm which could end his career if it was not treated. However, Feller, who has won 10 games and lost 12 this season, said he did not intend to take treatments.

"I don't intend to go back," said Feller. "There is absolutely nothing wrong with my back or shoulder."

Stranahan Wins Ohio Open Meet

TOLEDO — (AP) — The 1948 Ohio Open golf championship trophy snuggled handle-to-handle today with the British and Canadian amateur baubles—in the Toledo home of big-muscled Frank Stranahan.

The 26-year-old spark plug millionaire sewed up the state open yesterday with a 72-hole total of 279 over the rolling yardage of Sylvania country club, six strokes ahead of the nearest competitor.

Veteran Billy Burke of Cleveland, former U. S. open champ and three-time winner of the Ohio open crown, chased Stranahan with a vigor befitting a man years his junior -- but he couldn't hold the pace. He finished with 285 strokes.

Young Mr Stranahan, who carded only 139 strokes for the first 36 holes, added a 69-71 yesterday in the stretch for a winning score that was five blows better than the 284 with which Byron Nelson won the same event at Sylvania eight golf seasons ago.

Burke actually caught Stranahan at one point, but failed to hold on.

FOUR UNDER PAR

Burke began the final 18 holes yesterday afternoon with 215 strokes already down the drain, a desperate seven blows behind Stranahan. The Clevelander sailed through the first nine in 32 strokes, four under par, and birdied the short 10th to go five under.

Burke had a 71-70 for yesterday's work—plus the $1,000 first prize for professionals

Four strokes behind Burke, a post worth $400, came Denny Shute of Akron, the veteran stylist who turned in a 142-72-75—289. Phil Perkins of Cleveland, former British amateur winner, picked up $250 as third pro with a 290, while Ted Huge of Cleveland racked up a 291 and collected $150.

Second low amateur was John Nowack of Cleveland, the public links ace He also hit 291. Ollie Kay of Toledo and Pete Dye of Urbana tied for third with 297.

Middletown Schedules Revival of Boxing

MIDDLETOWN —(INS)— There's gonna be a revival—of boxing, that is—in Middletown next Tuesday.

The city's first exhibition of the manly art of self defense in ten years will pit Joe Discepoli, Cincinnati lightweight, against Gene Spencer, Chicago, in the main event on the card.

Tito's Communists Cling To Orthodox Party Line

BELGRADE — (INS) — Yugoslav communists went all out Wednesday in support of the orthodox party line.

Delegates to the Fifth party congress in Belgrade unanimously adopted a resolution ordering "increased vigilance and readiness to fight all deviations from party policy."

The resolution also called for continued resistance to what were termed "foreign elements" in the country.

To counter charges that they have forsaken the teachings of the party founders, the delegates further directed that special attention be given to the doctrines of Lenin and Marx

The action followed a vehement denial that the Yugoslav party is a "state capitalist" one.

The last "state capitalists" in Tito's government, the delegates were told, were ousted before the Yugoslav-Cominform split.
